PITTSBURGS WIN THEIR THIRD GAME

Pirates Press Nearer the Goal of World's Honors by Defeating Detroits Once More

TIGERS OUTPLAYED TO TUNE OF 8 TO 4

Forbes Field, Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13—Pittsburg took the lead in the great battle now being waged for the baseball championship of the world by defeating Detroit by the score of 8 to 4 in the fifth game of the series at Forbes Field today.

A home run by Manager Clarke in the seventh inning turned the tide in favor of Pittsburg, as he scored Byrne and Leach in front of him. Detroit had just tied the score at 3 to 3 and appeared to be dangerous contenders, but Clarke's terrific hit put them out of the running. Charles Adams, phenomenal youngster of Pittsburg, won his second game of the series by clearly outpitching Summers. Adams held the hard hitting Detroit team to six hits, but two of them were home runs, one being made by D. Jones and the other by Crawford, making three homers for the game.

The cause of the home runs was the low fence which had been built around the outfield to hold back the overflow, but there were not enough people to fill the stands, so this space was vacant and it was easy to hit into it. Manager Jennings took another chance with Ed Summers, who was batted so hard in the first inning of the game at Detroit and the Detroit twirler failed to make good. He was hit fairly hard and consistently, although he was not to blame for all Pittsburg's scores. Summers was relieved by Willett in the eighth inning, but it was too late. Score:

The thermometer registered thirty-four degrees early in the day, but the weather forecaster said it would be much warmer before the game started. It was expected that the crowd which began early to file into Forbes field would number at least 25,000. The reserved seats had all been sold before noon.

Today's battle was expected to be the hardest fought so far in the series as the winning team would have the advantage of needing only one more victory to clinch the honors in organized baseball. The decisive defeat of Pittsburg yesterday has filled Manager Hughey Jennings and his men with confidence.

The American league champions are planning to pitch George Mullin, the hero of yesterday's game, again in Thursday's game at Detroit. They are certain he will win and even if they lose today they are sure Mullin can tie up the series at three games each.

According to Garry Herrmann the seventh game, if necessary, will be played in this city because of the superior accommodations for an immense crowd. The national commission also announced that it had fined Miller, of Pittsburg, $50 for his conduct in yesterday's game which caused Umpire Klem to send him out of the field. This makes six fines during the last two games.

Ty Cobb, the star right fielder of the Detroit team, did not accompany his teammates on the national commission's train last night because of his desire to avoid Cleveland. Manager Jennings, of Detroit, received information yesterday that the Cleveland authorities intended to arrest Cobb as he passed through Cleveland in the special train. Cobb had trouble with a hotel watchman in Cleveland recently and it was reported to Jennings that an indictment for felonious assault had been brought against Cobb by the grand jury.

Cobb came from Detroit to Pittsburg by way of Buffalo and did not arrive until long after his teammates. There was some little anxiety among the Detroit players because of his late arrival, but he was here in time for the game.

Manager Jennings had Donovan, Willett and Summers warming up before the game and it was thought with the moderation in the weather he would send in Donovan, who beat Pittsburg 7 to 2 in the second game here. Clarke was undecided between Adams and Willis.

STORY OF THE GAME IN DETAIL

FIRST INNING.

Detroit—D. Jones hit to the center field stand for a home run; Bush walked and the Pittsburg team began to delay the game to let Adams settle down. Play was resumed after a delay of two minutes. Cobb sent a long fly to Leach. Crawford singled to left and Bush went to third on a hit and run signal. Delehanty struck out. Crawford stole second and Gibson did not threw to get him for fear of Bush coming in from third but threw to Adams instead. Moriarity popped to Abstein. One run.

Pittsburg—Byrne singled past Bush. Leach beat out a bunt along first base line, Byrne going to second. Clarke sacrificed, Stanage to Tom Jones, sending Byrne to third and Leach to second. Summers intentionally gave Wagner a base on balls, filling the bases. Miller struck out. Abstein drew a base on balls, forcing in Byrne. Wilson struck out. One run.

SECOND INNING.

Detroit—Tom Jones flied to Wilson; Stanage struck out. Summers also struck out. No runs.

Pittsburg—Gibson beat out a hit to Bush. Adams sacrificed, Summers to Delehanty, sending Gibson to second. Leach sent a high fly to Crawford. One run.

THIRD INNING.

Detroit—D. Jones sent a long fly to Leach. Bush struck out. Cobb out, Byrne to Abstein. No runs.

Abstein out, Bush to Tom Jones, Wagner going to third. Wilson out, Bush to T. Jones. One run.

Pittsburg—Leach flied to Dave Jones. Clarke beat out a hit to Tom Jones as the latter fell in fielding the ball. Clarke stole second and Stanage's throw went by Delehanty, but he fell against Clarke and prevented him from going to third. Wagner out, Bush to Tom Jones, Clarke going to third. Miller out, Moriarity to Tom Jones. No runs.

SIXTH INNING.

Detroit.—Bush out, and Gibson dropped the ball, but picked it up in time to tag Bush. Cobb singled to left field. Crawford doubled between Leach and Clarke, scoring Cobb. Delehanty hit to Wagner and was safe on the big German's wild throw and Delehanty was able to get to second on the throw. Moriarity flied to Clarke. Crawford scored on the play. Tom Jones fouled to Abstein. Two runs.

Pittsburg—Abstein popped to Bush, and Wilson grounded to Tom Jones, unassisted. Gibson out, Bush to Tom Jones. No runs.

Pittsburg—Schmidt now catching for Detroit. Adams struck out. Byrne singled to left. Leach singled to left, Byrne going to third. Clarke hit a home run into the center field stand, scoring Byrne and Leach in front of him. Wagner was hit by a pitched ball and fell to the ground. He appears to be hurt as he has not arisen and the players are gathering around him. Wagner has arisen, started for first. Miller flied to D. Jones. Wagner stole second. Wagner stole third and scored on Schmidt's high throw. Abstein struck out. Four runs.

EIGHTH INNING.

Detroit—Bush flied to Leach. Cobb out, Adams to Abstein. Crawford hit a home run into center field stand, and Leach running for the ball smashed the fence and fell into the stand. He climbed out a moment later apparently unhurt. Delehanty out Byrne to Abstein. One run.

NINTH INNING.

Detroit—Moriarity fouled to Byrne; Tom Jones safe when Wagner dropped his pop fly. Tom Jones stole second. Schmidt out, Wagner to Abstein. Mullin batted for Willet. Mullin popped to Wagner.

CRANE INCIDENT HAS BEEN CLOSED

Secretary Knox Gives Out Word That There is Nothing Doing.

ALL WASHINGTON DEEPLY STIRRED

Story Persistent That Ex-Minister Designate Was Victim of Intrigue.

Washington, Oct. 13.—"What will President Taft do with the resignation of Charles R. Crane, as minister to China?" In one form or another this question was on the lips of all official Washington this morning. It is long since a diplomatic episode has excited the national capital more than this one. Mr. Crane's stinging reply last night to the statement in which Secretary of State Knox yesterday afternoon announced that he had informed the minister designate that his resignation would be accepted, including, as the reply did, Mr. Crane's exceedingly lucid telegram of virtual resignation to the president, was read and re-read with the keenest zest.

Little doubt was expressed that the resignation of Mr. Crane would be accepted by the president. It was asserted without qualification by those in the confidence of the secretary of state that Mr. Knox was perfectly assured of the approval of the president; that he was not the kind of man to take so drastic a step without knowing in advance that he would be supported in it.

Friends are Indignant.

Even the friends of Mr. Crane—and several very astute friends have stood beside him in this crisis—were highly indignant at the treatment with which he had met at the hands of Mr. Knox, admitted that the developments since he left San Francisco at the peremptory summons of the secretary had, regardless of the merits of the case, utterly destroyed any possible usefulness on his part at Peking, and that in all the circumstances he could not now with self respect do otherwise than insist upon the acceptance of his resignation.

Further than that, it was pointed out on both sides of the controversy as one man put it, "That the state department, big and broad as it is is not big enough now for both Knox and Crane. The president cannot sustain either without turning down the other. Mr. Knox could not now be reversed without its being interpreted throughout the world as an insufferable rebuff."

President Will Stay Out.

Therefore the press dispatches received last night from the newspaper correspondents traveling with President Taft, to the effect that information regarding Mr. Crane must come from the state department, "where the entire matter has been handled" were interpreted here this morning as indicating unmistakably, not only that the president had no intention of interfering with the action of the secretary of state; but also that he intended the secretary to bear all of the responsibility for that action.

At the same time it was borne in mind that Mr. Crane's telegram of resignation was addressed to the president in person as their relations officially required and that it would have to be acted upon in the same way by the president in person.

One of the possible indirect results of the whole incident was discussed with much interest in some diplomatic quarters last night and today and it is the unmistakable notice that Japan has incidentally received, even in the words of Mr. Knox's statement of yesterday, to the effect that this government looks with disapproval upon her gains in Manchuria through the two new treaties with China which have been so much discussed in connection with the Crane affair. According to this view Mr. Crane, intentionally or unintentionally has been made the pawn in the gambit of expediency.

An Expert's View of It.

A man who has studied international politics for many years but who would not be quoted by name described it in this way:

"It was very necessary that Japan should be advised of the intention of this government to protect to the utmost the American trade in Manchuria, yet in such a way as to avoid placing the state department in a position from which it would be awkward to retreat in the event of the odds being found too great. In the ordinary course, the great powers interested in maintaining the 'open door' in Manchuria could have been approached by Secretary Knox with the purpose of securing their support in a joint representation to Japan and China to the effect that the two treaties recently negotiated between those countries conferring upon Japan a practical monopoly of the exploitation of railroads and mineral resources of Manchuria were obnoxious to these powers. Possibly the state department had so far progressed in taking soundings as to lead it to doubt whether the support of a majority of the great powers could be obtained. Secretary Knox's statement issued yesterday shows that the negotiations are still in progress but certainly does not indicate that success has been attained. The recent disclosures, the truth of which, as Mr. Crane in his statement points out, the department of state fails to deny, may have served this purpose very well and the fact that the department felt called upon to 'punish' Mr. Crane for these disclosures might well serve as notice to the Japanese government of its serious objections to the new treaties."

JUDGE ANDERSON DISMISSES CASE

Panama Libel Suit Defendants in Indianapolis Win a Victory.

CANNOT BE TRIED IN WASHINGTON

Federal Jurist Makes Some Pointed Observations on Law and Liberty.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13.—Judge A. B. Anderson of the United States court of this district today dismissed the proceedings against Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of the Indianapolis News. They were resisting removal to the District of Columbia for trial under a grand jury indictment charging them with having committed criminal libel in publishing articles alleging that there was a corrupt profit of $28,000,000 in the sale of the Panama canal to the United States.

"That man has read the history of our institutions to little purpose," said Judge Anderson in concluding his decision, "who does not view with apprehension the success of such a proceeding as this to the end that citizens could be dragged from their homes to the District of Columbia, the seat of government, for trial under the circumstances of this case. The defendants are discharged."

At the close of the argument in the hearing of Messrs. Smith and Williams, Judge Anderson said that he was too busy with other matters to write a long opinion in the case, though it clearly was one of great public interest and importance and involved several complex questions of procedure in the United States courts. He would proceed, he said, to sum up at once his view of the evidence and the argument.

Defines Duty of Newspapers.

"I am of the opinion," said Judge Anderson, "that the fact that certain persons were called 'thieves' and 'swindlers' does not constitute libel per se. A newspaper has a certain duty to perform. As a former president has said: 'It is the duty of a newspaper to print the news and to tell the truth about it.'—It is the duty of a newspaper to draw inferences for the people.

"Now, there were many peculiar circumstances about the whole Panama canal business. I do not wish to be understood as reflecting upon anybody in or out of office except such person or persons as I may name.

"The revolution in Panama, the circumstances concerning it, were unusual and peculiar. The people were interested in the construction of the canal. It was a matter of great public concern; a large portion of the people favored the Nicaraguan route; another portion, those who were interested in it, officially and personally—just interested—preferred the Panama route.

Committee Makes a Change.

"A committee was appointed to investigate the relative merits of the two routes. They investigated and reported in favor of the Nicaragua. Shortly afterwards they changed to Panama.

"Up to the time of that change, as I gather from the evidence, the lowest offer which had been suggested as the one at which the Panama property—the property of the Panama Canal company—could be procured was something over $100,000,000. Then suddenly it became known that it could be procured for $40,000,000.

"Now, there were a number of people who thought there was something wrong—something not just exactly right—about that transaction, and I say for myself that now I feel a natural curiosity to know what the real truth was.

Questions of Committee Unheeded.

"Thereupon the committee of the United States senate was appointed to investigate these matters—about the only way it could be investigated. The committee met, as stated in these articles, these men 'who knew all about it.' I think that is the proper way to speak of William Nelson Cromwell.

"Well, these men were called before the committee, and Mr. Cromwell, upon having certain questions put to him, stood upon his privilege as an attorney and refused to answer. That was the state of the case, as shown by the evidence, when we adjourned last June.

"At this session of court certain parts of the records showing the proposition before the senate have been introduced by the government, and the impression made upon my mind from such parts as the government saw fit to introduce is not more favorable to Mr. Cromwell's position than it was upon the former hearing.

Sees Basis for Suspicion.

"So far as the record has been read, Mr. Cromwell stood upon his privilege whenever questions were asked the answer to which would or might reflect upon him or his associates; but

FERRER MEETS HIS FATE LIKE A MAN

Barcelona Revolutionist is Shot by Soldiers at Montjuich.

HE REFUSED THE LAST SACRAMENTS

Death of Great Agitator is Likely to Breed Woe for Spain.

Barcelona, Oct. 13.—Prof. Francis Ferrer, the Spanish educator and convicted revolutionist, was shot today at the fortress of Montjuich, where the prisoner had been confined since his condemnation by court-martial. The doomed man faced the firing squad without flinching and fell dead at the first volley.

Ferrer, except for a momentary expression of emotion immediately preceding his death, retained his composure to the last. His attorney, M. Galcerah, who had defended the prisoner so loyally as to bring about his own arrest for improperly addressing the court, had obtained permission for a brief talk with the revolutionist before the latter was led to his death.

The firing squad was drawn by lot and the command to fire was given by Gen. Escrin. Just before his eyes were bandaged Ferrer examined his will, which had been drafted for him by Senor Permayer, dean of the notaries, while the preparations for the execution were going on. The contents of the will have not been made public.

Daughter's Efforts Touched Him.

To his attorney Ferrer spoke feelingly of the work for which he had sacri-

DR. COOK NOT A BIT DISTURBED BY PEARY

Says He Will Bring on His Eskimos and Prove That They Lied to Peary.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook arrived here this morning from Cleveland in the midst of a heavy snowstorm. He went directly to the Iriquois hotel, stating that he would see the newspaper men there at 10 o'clock.

"I can only say that the actual living human witnesses of my journey to the pole will themselves be able to disprove the distorted declarations put into their mouths in the statement issued by Commander Peary," said Dr. Cook today to the Associated Press.

"There could not be better testimony than that given by the men themselves before an unbiased body of inquirers. Commander Peary evidently regards their evidence as of the most profound importance, and so do I.

Peary Should Have Brought Them.

"It seems to me that he might have brought them along with him if he was so confident that he would corroborate his story. He, however, chose not to do so. I will therefore send for them as soon as possible and place them at the disposal of any scientific or other body that may desire to examine them with the aid of any competent interpreters whom the examining board may appoint."

Asked whether he would make a direct reply to Peary's statement, as had been intimated in an interview at Cleveland last night, Dr. Cook said:

"There is nothing to add to what already has been said. I do not intend to enter upon a controversy with any one. I shall depend upon the witnesses who have already been brought into the case and prove my case by them."

Dr. Cook was given a public reception on the 'change floor of the chamber of commerce at noon.

WIFE GIVEN DECREE ALONG WITH A DIAMOND

Pelky Divorce Comes to an Abrupt End—The Court Notes.

In the superior court Alta Pelkey was given a divorce from Earl Pelkey at the suggestion of Judge R. K. Erwin, who presided in the case and who brought about the wind-up of a bitter fight by outlining a compromise plan.

The wife got a diamond ring that she had given him conditionally and $200 alimony and her maiden name was restored. The wife testified that she had spent a lot of money on Pelkey and did not know until after her marriage that she was his third wife.

Notes of the Court.

In the circuit court Eva Henkel was adopted by Mrs. Jennie Ferris, a widow. The child is three years old.

Edward Deprey was granted a divorce in the superior court from Alma Deprey. He charged desertion.

STORM SUFFERERS APPEAL FOR HELP

Scarcely a House in Key West Escaped Destruction or Damage.

PEOPLE HOMELESS; SOME STARVING

Singular Feature of Storm is That So Few Lives Were Claimed.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 13.—Hundreds of laborers, aided by refugees, today are clearing the streets and the water front of the debris and wreckage resulting from the hurricane which practically destroyed half this city Monday.

It will be many days before normal business conditions can be resumed here. Great rejoicing is felt over the reports coming in from points near Key West, showing that the loss of life from the "big blow" will be the smallest ever recorded along the Florida coast. The property damage, however, is the heaviest in the history of the peninsula.

An Appeal for Help.

Acting on a resolution of the city council last night Mayor Fogarty issued an appeal for help from the people of the United States as follows:

"Scarcely a house in this city of 20,000 people but has been either entirely demolished or partially damaged. Many are homeless and those who have homes are scarcely able to house and care for their own families and are hardly in a position to relieve the other sufferers.

"Starvation and distress face our people who have always heretofore borne their meed of natural affliction

NELSON HOWE FIRES PISTOL BALL AT HEART

Aim is Not True and He Will Probably Survive Wound.

Nelson Howe, who is out on a furlough from the hospital for insane at Longcliffe, shot himself in the right breast in the public lavatory at the court house about 8 o'clock this morning and was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, after Coroner A. J. Kesler had been called under the impression that the man was dead. The shot was fired with suicidal intent.

At the hospital Dr. Kesler made a careful examination of the wound and found that the revolver was held at an angle when the shot was fired and that the ball, which entered to the right and a little below the left nipple, followed the ribs and did not penetrate the lung. The wounded man recovered consciousness while the wound was being dressed, but was not questioned about his act.

Nobody noticed Howe when he entered one of the compartments at the lavatory, but Earl Doenges, a lad who was in the next compartment, heard the hot and tried to open the door to give the alarm, but was so excited that he couldn't get out, and a man standing outside notified one of the janitors, who called the sheriff.

Howe was found on the floor and the revolver was at his side. He had opened his coat and vest and held the muzzle of the revolver pressed tight against his side, as was evidenced by the powder burns on his shirt. He did not speak after the shot was fired until he was taken to the hospital, but he groaned constantly and was apparently unconscious.

Bought Cheap Revolver.

Six weeks ago Howe was allowed to come to Fort Wayne on a furlough and the hospital authorities advised his wife to write them every two weeks of his condition and notified her that he could stay in Fort Wayne as long as he gave no evidence of returning mental derangement.

He had been stopping with his sister, Mrs. Samuel White, who occupies a flat on the second floor at 209 West Main street. This morning Mrs. White gave him a dollar and told him to go get some groceries. He put on his overcoat and when she asked him where he was going he said he intended to walk about town and get some fresh air, as there was no hurry about the groceries.

After he had been removed to the hospital Mrs. White learned that he had purchased the revolver, with which he shot himself at a second hand store on Columbia street with the money that had been given him. It was of thirty-eight caliber and a cheap make and only one cartridge had been exploded. Among his effects were found letters from the Longcliffe authorities and letters from Police Commissioner Calvin K. Rieman pertaining to K. of P. lodge matters.

Howe's wife and a son of seventeen years are living in Fort Wayne and she went to the hospital this morning with Mrs. White to visit him. He has a brother, John Howe, living at Wolcottville and for a long time he was employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works. Several months ago he escaped from the hospital and was at large for a short time, but was captured here and returned.

DOG BITE DROVE MAN TO SUICIDE

Gustave Tons Swallows Carbolic Acid and His Death Follows.

WAS EMPLOYED AS A NIGHT HACKMAN

Wife Did Not Know He Had Taken Acid for Several Hours.

The fact that he had been bitten by a dog preyed upon Gustave Tons' mind until in a fit of despondency he swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid at his home, 1020 Home avenue, about 6 o'clock this morning and died about five hours later without having regained consciousness.

He had for six weeks been employed as a night hackman and kept his outfit at Horstman's barn, and while the proprietor was teasing a dog a short time ago the animal sank its teeth in Tons' arm. It was frothing at the mouth at the time and while it had never before or since manifested any symptoms of hydrophobia, the occurrence weighed on Tons' mind and for several days he had been despondent. He was slightly under the influence of liquor when he got home about 6 o'clock this morning.

Just when he took the acid is not known. He lay down on a couch a short time after he got home and the members of the family thought he was sleeping, as had been his custom and did not pay any particular attention to him. Herbert Tons, a son, who is employed as driver at the Vesey green houses, went to work and later in the morning his mother called him home after she had found near the sink in the kitchen the empty vial that had contained carbolic acid.

Bought for Wound.

The acid had been purchased for the purpose of cleansing the wound caused by the bite of the dog and he had evidently thrown it under the kitchen sink after swallowing the contents. The son tried to rouse his father and when he failed he called Dr. Henderson, who said that it was too late to revive him.

For some time Tons had occasionally uttered threats that he would take his own life, but he made no attempt to do so and the members of the family did not attach much importance to his threats. He had had no trouble with the family and he was apparently sleeping naturally while the family was at breakfast.

Family Well Known.

The deceased was a son of Henry Tons, formerly a real estate dealer and one of the German pioneer residents of the city. He had been employed at a number of places and recently left the Wolf & Dessauer department store to engage as a hack driver. Prior to his employment at the department store he worked at the Vesey green houses.

The surviving family consists of the widow, Herbert Tons, employed as a driver at Vesey's, and Clara, a daughter, who lives at home. Mrs.

GIVES SOME IDEAS OF HELLO GIRL'S BUSY JOB

Visitors Inspect Wonders of Telephone Exchange in Operation.

Several hundred Fort Wayne people now have a more definite idea of the magnitude and the perplexities of the busy job of the telephone operator, as well as a little clearer understanding of the mysteries of a big telephone exchange as a result of the invitation extended by the Home Telephone company for yesterday and today. Despite the bad weather on Tuesday, both the main and the south exchanges were thronged by visitors between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock, and the crowd was still larger today.

The movement was both interesting and educational, and it was conceived by Manager Moellering as likely to result in a better understanding and a closer relation between the company and its patrons. The visitors were shown the boards in operation, both at the main and the south exchanges, and given some idea of the tremendous demands made upon the twenty operators in handling the 70,000 local calls which come into the Home company exchanges in Fort Wayne daily. It will also be likely to correct the erroneous impression that occasionally gains lodgment to the effect that when a call is not answered instantly the hello girl is probably loafing or visiting with her chums. And at that, the visitors did not see the full extent of the telephone girl's labors, for the mornings are her busiest hours.

Manager Moellering received the visitors at the main exchange, with the assistance of George T. Fox, Frank Bohn, Chief Electrician Frank Staub and his assistants, Barney Hattel and Joseph Fox; A. Staub and John Thieson, of the "trouble department;" Miss Gertrude Lynch, chief operator, and Miss Bertha Ludwig, her assistant. At the south exchange Miss Theresa Woehnker, chief operator, and John Johnson received the visitors.

WEDS BEAUTY WHOSE HEART HE WON BY MAIL

New York Marriage License Bureau Open Overtime for Maurice Dukes.

(From the New York American, October 12.)

The marriage license bureau was kept open an hour over time yesterday so that "Finis" could be written to what might be termed a marriage by mail.

Just as Assistant City Clerk Ed Hart was putting on his coat yesterday afternoon the telephone jangled.

"Say," exclaimed a voice at the other end of the wire, "just get out a wedding license and have it ready for me, will you? I'll be right up."

A moment later the owner of the voice, a breezy young fellow, and a beautiful brunette rushed into the city hall.

"Here we are," he said and then he explained he was Maurice H. Dukes, a merchant, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and his bride-to-be was Miss Florence Huebner, of St. Paul, Minn. He said Miss Huebner had just arrived on the Rotterdam.

Hart granted the license, and the young couple jumped into a taxicab and broke all speed records to "The Little Church Around the Corner," where the Rev. Dr. Houghton united them in marriage.

"I met my wife five years ago in Seattle," Dukes explained. "She was only fourteen years old, but I was attracted to her by her playing on the piano. She inherits her talent, being the niece of Max Hoffman, the composer, and the grand daughter of a colleague of Paderewski.

"Four years ago she went to Berlin to study. We kept up a correspondence and fell in love with each other's letters. A month ago I wrote asking her hand. She replied, telling me she was coming over on the Rotterdam, and to meet her at the pier.

"When I saw how beautiful she had grown"—the young husband gazed fondly at his bride—"I was eager to have the ceremony performed at once."

The groom in the pretty romance, which has just terminated so happily, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Marx Dukes, of Fort Wayne. He is a junior partner in the clothing business of which his father is at the head, and is a popular young fellow with many friends.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Rusher—Webb.

A charming home wedding of yesterday took place at 8 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Webb, when her daughter, Naomi S. Webb became the bride of Walter B. Rusher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rusher, of Huntington county, Ind. Members of the two families and a few intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony which was read by Rev. J. K. Cecil of the First Methodist church. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and carnations. As the Mendelssohn wedding march was played the bride and groom entered the parlor unattended. Miss Katherine Anderson presided at the piano and played softly during the ceremony. The bride was beautifully gowned in white with lace trimming and carried a bouquet of brides roses. After congratulations a wedding supper was served. Many beautiful and useful presents were received. Mr. Rusher is a promising young man and is employed in the office of the Fort Wayne Incandescent Lamp works. Mr. and Mrs. Rusher will be at home to their friends at 1024 Hanna street after October 17.

The wedding of Miss Addie Smith, daughter of the late H. B. Smith, and Stephen Trentman, of Fort Wayne, will be solemnized Saturday morning at 8:45 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on West Washington street, in Hartford City. None but immediate relatives of the young couple will be present and the services will be simple in the extreme. The ceremony will be performed by Father John F. Noll and the young couple will leave immediately after for New York, where their honeymoon will be spent. After their return they will take up their residence in Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grosvenor will entertain at a five hundred party Saturday evening at their home on West Suttenfield street. The affair will be in the nature of a house warming.

Mrs. William Lassenbop, of Pittsburg, is in the city the guest of relatives.

The wedding of Miss Marie Holghauer and Charles Engle will take place tomorrow. Miss Golda Dougherty and Arthur Engle will be the attendants.

Miss May Gunder, an October bride, was the guest of honor at a very pretty linen shower given by Miss Elsie Sauerwein. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn foliage.

STORM SUFFERERS APPEAL FOR HELP

without complaint and without appeal to others for aid, and who have always themselves responded generously to the call of other cities afflicted as they are now. Cash contributions for the poor will be gladly received by the mayor and applied by him to the aid of those who most sorely need it."

Where the Losses Are Heavy.

Along the wharves alone here the losses will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

At the Peninsular and Occidental docks the port stewards' buildings and stores are destroyed, but the dock is practically without damage.

At the Mallory dock a great quantity of merchandise was ruined. The steamer Lampasas, which arrived from New York on Sunday, left late yesterday for Tampa. The schooner Medford was sunk and the schooner Frontenac is aground and may be a total loss.

RUNNING DOWN CLEW TO CRIME.

Tiverton, R. I., Oct. 13.—Systematic and thorough search is being made today for the head and arms of the young woman whose torso was found in the woods near here on Tuesday. The police here it is understood have been communicating with Chief Inspector Horton, of Providence, concerning a missing young woman there. Investigation in connection with an illegal operation in Providence is said to have led the authorities of that city to Tiverton.

Alex Comparet has returned to his home at Hicksville after attending the funeral services of the late Mrs. David Comparet in this city yesterday. Mr. Comparet, who is 80 years of age, is the last of the original Comparet brothers, who were prominent in affairs in Fort Wayne in pioneer days. Mr. Comparet was born in this city.

JUDGE ANDERSON DISMISSES CASES

whenever a question was asked him which gave him an opportunity to say something in their behalf he ostentatiously thanked the examiner and proceeded to answer. To my mind that was a just basis for suspicion. I am suspicious about it now.

"So we have this situation. Here is a matter of great public concern. I was interested, you were interested, we were all interested. Here was a newspaper printing the news—or trying to. Here was this matter up for discussion, and I am not willing to say that the inferences were too strongly drawn. I am not approving them; I am simply saying that I am not able to say they were too strongly drawn.

Sees But One Conclusion.

"To my mind there is but one conclusion to be drawn. Everything that the evidence shows that defendants do or did they did do and did in the state of Indiana, city of Indianapolis, county of Marion. I am not here to say that if these defendants had an agent in Washington to whom they sent for circulation copies of this paper, that they might not be amenable to prosecution in Washington, if they could be arrested in Washington.

"I have thought about this thing a good deal, and it seems to me that I am compelled to take one of two views, and there is nothing between them. Either when a newspaper owner or proprietor does what the evidence in this case shows those defendants did, 'composed, printed, and deposited in the mails for circulation' these papers containing them for the purposes of this statement, libelous articles, either they are guilty here and in every county, district or jurisdiction into which these papers go, or they are only guilty here. There is no middle ground to take.

"To my mind that man has read the history of our institutions to little purpose who does not put little valuation on the possible success of evidence such as this. If the history of liberty means anything, if the constitution means anything, then the prosecuting authority should not have the power to select the tribunal if there be more than one to select from, at the capital of the nation, nor should the government have the power to drag citizens from distant states there for trial.

"The defendants will be discharged."

fleed his life and of the future of his daughter, whose brave attempt to save his life touched the father more deeply apparently than any other incident of his trial and conviction.

On Ferrer's arrest his family was left dependent upon this daughter, who at once obtained employment in a biscuit factory. When it was known that her father had been sentenced to death the daughter made a personal appeal to King Alphonso, calling upon him in the name of his known generosity and chivalry to spare her father's life. When these facts were related by Galceran, Ferrer broke down. It was but a passing emotion and presently the undaunted revolutionist was himself again.

Repulsed Priests.

Ferrer declined to receive the last sacraments and turned away from the two priests of the Order of Peace and Charity who had been sent by the prison authorities to offer him the final consolation of the church. When the hour of his execution arrived he walked bravely through the prison yard to the ditch in the shadow of the encircling wall. Without a quiver he faced the twelve infantrymen who, at the word of command, fired simultaneously. When the report of the volley had died away Ferrer lay dead upon the ground.

Previous to the execution precautions had been taken to forestall a possible attempt at rescue by doubling the sentinels upon the walls of the fortress.

Much Feared Man Gone.

With the execution of Francisco Ferrer, the authorities have removed from the affairs of Spain one long suspected of revolutionary activities and who, because of his education and influence, was deemed of peculiar danger to the state.

The decree of the court-martial was carried out in the face of protests from sympathizers not only in Spain, but in parts of France, and it was said in Paris and Rome the protests were voiced in mass meetings by workmen of socialistic tendencies. In these capitals attacks were attempted upon the Spanish embassies, which, however, were protected by police and soldiery. Many petitions for clemency were addressed to King Alfonso, who also was threatened with death should he not spare Ferrer's life. Ferrer's attorney claimed that he did not have a fair trial, as the witnesses were not examined in open court, but only their depositions read.

Director of Modern School.

Ferrer was formerly a director of the modern school of Barcelona and was repeatedly accused of teaching revolutionary doctrines. In 1906 he was arrested charged with complicity with Manuel Morales in the attempt upon the life of King Alfonso on the day of the royal marriage. On trial Ferrer was acquitted.

On September 1 last he was arrested charged with having incited the rioting which occurred in Barcelona last summer. This outbreak, which spread through the Catalonian provinces, was in the nature of a protest against the sending of Spanish troops against the Moors on the Riff coast and for a time assumed alarming proportions. It was alleged that Ferrer was a principal in the uprising. At his trial documents were submitted alleged to have related to revolutionary movements and to have included the proclamation of a Spanish republic.

FRANCE MUCH AROUSED.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The fate of the revolutionist who was executed at Barcelona has aroused since the beginning of his trial intense interest in France. Paris papers today devote pages to the case. The expressions in the morning papers which were prepared for publication before the sentence of death had been carried out indicate the feeling here.

Even those sheets which are most moderate in tone express the hope that King Alfonso would intervene to prevent the consummation of the political assassination of a revolutionary idealist, while the radical papers indulge in the most violent language, placing responsibility for Ferrer's condemnation upon supremacy of the clerical reaction in Spain.

M. Jaures, the deputy who yesterday addressed a mass meeting of protest, had an interview in a morning paper in which he predicted that if Ferrer was shot a conflagration would be started which would not be extinguished until "Spanish political life has been purged of the clerical influences which are paralyzing the progress of the nation and shocking the conscience of Europe."

CRANE INCIDENT HAS BEEN CLOSED

Incident Closed.

The simple statement that the Crane "incident" is closed was the only response made today at the white house and the state department to the inquiry as to whether President Taft had accepted the resignation of Charles R. Crane as minister designate to China. It was stated that nothing had been heard from the president today and that Secretary Knox had left Washington for his Valley Forge home without having received word from his chief.

EMBALMERS HAVE GONE.

School for Undertakers at Anthony Hotel Has Closed.

The school for embalmers, which has been conducted at the Anthony hotel this week by lecturers from the Barnes college of embalming at Chicago, came to a close today, and undertakers who were here from outside cities attending the lectures have returned home. About twenty were present.

BOUGHT SOME MORE BONDS.

The police department has invested $3,500 of the pension fund in municipal improvement bonds, having decided upon this at a meeting yesterday. This runs the total investment of the pension board up to $10,000.

CITY BREVITIES.

C. F. Gubler, county chairman of the farmers' institutes, left this morning for Lafayette to attend the farmers' conference, which is being held there.

The Ladies' Hebrew Benevolent society will hold a meeting in the vestry room at the synagogue Thursday afternoon.

THE DEATHS.

PORTER.

Within a few hours after she had, while apparently in her usual health, declared her belief that she had but a short time to live, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, 68 years of age, died very suddenly Tuesday evening at her home, 609 Lavina street.

Death was due to apoplexy with which Mrs. Porter was stricken soon after she had eaten her supper, and was almost instantaneous. Several weeks ago Mrs. Porter had undergone an operation for the removal of an affection of the eye. The case was not regarded as a serious one, and while Mrs. Porter's health had not been good, nothing in her condition was considered immediately alarming by friends. Tuesday morning at the breakfast table, however, she had stated her belief that she was going to die soon, and the premonition was fulfilled with startling suddenness.

Mrs. Porter was born in Germany, came with her parents to Fort Wayne when but a mere babe, and was twice married. Her first husband, John Beck, died forty-four years ago, and she was later married to Humphrey Porter, whose death occurred thirty-two years ago. Surviving relatives include two sons—William Beck, of this city, and John F. Beck, of Grand Rapids; a brother, Benjamin Kouder, of Chicago, and three half-brothers—Peter Malone, of this city; John Malone, of Chicago, and Charles Malone, of Milwaukee. Mrs. Porter was a member of Wayne Street M. E. church.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence.

BOWERS.

Mrs. J. W. Bowers, residing near Monroeville, died very suddenly Monday evening from heart trouble at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna McDaniels, in Decatur, at the age of 53 years, 6 months and 25 days. Mrs. Bowers had accompanied her aged mother to Bluffton, and returning to Decatur was met by her husband and they expected to drive to their home near Monroeville. She suddenly complained of a pain in her heart, and instead of starting for home Mr. and Mrs. Bowers drove to the residence of their daughter, where the mother died half an hour later. She had long suffered from asthma and a weak heart.

Mrs. Bowers was born in Monroe township, Allen county, March 16, 1856, married to Mr. Bowers in 1872, and had spent her entire life in Monroe township. She is survived by the husband and ten children—Mrs. Anna McDaniels, Mrs. Elnora Fisher and Mrs. Sarah Elida Ross, of Decatur; Mrs. Minnie DeWitt, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. Bessie Hey and Miss Daisy Bowers, near Monroeville, and Jesse, Will, Frank and Earl Bowers, two of whom live in Fort Wayne.

Funeral services Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the home, near Monroeville, and later from the East Liberty United Brethren church, of which the deceased had long been a member.

PEARY SUBMITS BRIEF OF CASE

Proofs That Cook Did Not Reach the Pole Rest on Word of Two Young Eskimos.

[Entered according to act of congress, in the year 1909, by the Peary Arctic club, in the office of the librarian of congress, at Washington, D. C.]

Introduction by Peary.

Some of my reasons for saying that Dr. Cook did not go to the north pole will be understood by those who read the following statements of the two Eskimo boys who went with him, and who told me and others of my party where he did go. Several Eskimos who started with Dr. Cook from Annatok in February, 1908, were at Etah when I arrived there in August, 1908. They told me that Dr. Cook had with him, after they left, two Eskimo boys or young men, two sledges, and some twenty dogs. The boys were I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah. I had known them from their childhood. One was about 18 and the other about 19 years of age.

On my return from Cape Sheridan and at the first settlement I touched (Nerke, near Cape Chalon) in August, 1909, and nine days before reaching Etah, the Eskimos told me, in a general way, where Dr. Cook had been; that he had wintered in Jones sound, and that he had told the white men at Etah that he had been a long way north, but that the boys who were with him, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, said that this was not so. The Eskimos laughed at Dr. Cook's story. On reaching Etah I talked with the Eskimos there and with the two boys and asked them to describe Dr. Cook's journey to members of my party and myself. This they did in the manner stated below. R. E. PEARY.

Statement in Detail.

SIGNED STATEMENT OF PEARY, BARTLETT, M'MILLAN, BORUP, AND HENSON, IN REGARD TO TESTIMONY OF COOK'S TWO ESKIMO BOYS.

The two Eskimo boys, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, who accompanied Dr. Cook while he was away from Anoratok in 1908 and 1909, were questioned separately and independently, and were corroborated by Panikpah, the father of one of them (I-took-a-shoo), who was personally familiar with the first third and last third of their journey, and who said that the route of the remaining third, as shown by them, was as described by his son after his return with Dr. Cook.

Notes of their statements were taken by several of us, and no one of us has any doubt that they told the truth.

Testimony Unshaken.

Their testimony was unshaken by cross-examination, was corroborated by other men in the tribe, and was elicited neither by threats nor promises, the two boys and their father talking of their journey and their experiences in the same way that they would talk of any hunting trip.

To go more into details: One of the boys was called in, and, with a chart on the table before him, was asked to show where he had gone with Dr. Cook. This he did, pointing out with his finger on the map, but not making any marks upon it.

As he went out, the other boy came in and was asked to show where he had gone with Dr. Cook. This he did, also without making any marks, and indicated the same route and the same details as did the first boy.

Youth's Tale is Supported.

When he was through Panikpah, the father of I-took-a-shoo, a very intelligent man, who was in the party of Eskimos that came back from Dr. Cook from the northern end of Nansen's strait, who is familiar as a hunter with the Jones sound region, and who has been in Commander Peary's various expeditions for some fifteen years, came in and indicated the same localities and details as the two boys.

Then the first boy was brought in again, and with a pencil he traced on the map their route, members of our party writing upon the chart where, according to the boy's statement, they had killed deer, bear, some of their dogs, seal, walrus and musk-oxen.

The second boy was then called in and the two went over the chart together, the second boy suggesting some changes as noted hereafter.

Finally, Panikpah, the father, was again called in to verify details of the portions of the route with which he was personally familiar.

Peary Himself Not Present.

The bulk of the boys' testimony was not taken by Commander Peary, nor in his presence, a fact that obviates any possible claim that they were awed by him.

Certain questions on independent lines from the direct narrative of the Eskimo boys were suggested by Commander Peary to some of us, and were put by us to the Eskimo boys.

Still later, Commander Peary asked the Eskimo boys two or three casual questions on minor points that had occurred to him.

During the taking of this testimony, it developed that Dr. Cook had told these boys, as he told Mr. Whitney and Billy Pritchard, the cabin boy, that they must not tell Commander Peary or any of us anything about their journey, and the boys stated Dr. Cook had threatened them if they should tell anything.

Story Told by Eskimos.

The narrative of these Eskimos is as follows:

They, with Dr. Cook, Francke, and nine other Eskimos, left Annatok crossed Smith's Sound to Cape Sabine, slept in Commander Peary's old house in Payer harbor, then went through Rice strait to Buchanan bay. After a few marches Francke and three Eskimos returned to Annatok.

Dr. Cook, with the others, then proceeded up Flagler bay, a branch of Buchanan bay, and crossed Ellesmere Land through the valley pass at the head of Flagler bay, indicated by Commander Peary in 1898, and utilized by Sverdrup in 1899, to the head of Sverdrup's "Bay Fiord" on the west side of Ellesmere Land.

Their route then lay out through this fiord, thence north through Sverdrup's "Heuerka sound" and Nansen strait.

Most of Eskimos Return.

On their way they killed musk oxen and bear and made caches, arriving eventually at a point on the west side of Nansen strait (shore of Axel Heiberg Land of Sverdrup,) south of Cape Thomas Hubbard.

A cache was formed here and the four Eskimos did not go beyond this point. Two others, Koolootingwah and Inughito, went on one more march with Dr. Cook, and the two boys helped to build the snow igloo, then returned without sleeping.

(These two Eskimos brought back a letter from Dr. Cook to Francke, dated the 17th of March. The two men rejoined the other four men who had been left behind, and the six returned to Annatok, arriving on May 7. This information was obtained not from the two Eskimo boys, but from the six men who had returned and from Francke himself and was known to us in the summer of 1908, when the Roosevelt first arrived at Etah. The information is inserted here as supplementary to the narrative of the two boys.)

Cook Starts; Turns Back.

After sleeping at the camp where the last two Eskimos turned back, Dr. Cook and the two boys went in a northerly or northwesterly direction with two sledges and twenty odd dogs, one more march, when they encountered rough ice and a lead of open water. They did not enter this rough ice, nor cross the lead, but turned westward or southwestward a short distance and returned to Heiberg Land at a point west of where they had left the cache and where the four men had turned back.

Here they remained four or five sleeps, and during that time I-took-a-shoo went back to the cache and got his gun, which he had left there, and a few items of supplies.

Sledges Still Well Loaded.

When asked why only a few supplies were taken from the cache, the boys replied that only a small amount of provisions had been used in the few days since they left the cache, and that their sledges still had all they could carry, so that they could not take more.

After being informed of the boys' narrative thus far, Commander Peary suggested a series of questions to be put to the boys in regard to this trip from the land out and back to it.

Questions Asked of Eskimos.

These questions and answers were as follows:

Did they cross many open leads or much open water during this time? Answer—None.

Did they make and caches out on the ice? Answer —No.

Did they kill any bear or seal while out on the ice north of Cape Thomas Hubbard? Answer—No.

Did they kill or lose any of the dogs while out on the ice? Answed—No.

With how many sledges did they start? Answer—Two.

How many sledges did they have Answer—Did not remember exactly, but something over twenty.

How many sledges did they have when they got back to land? Answer—Two.

Did they have any provisions left on their sledges when they came back to land? Answer—Yes; the sledges still had about all they could carry, so they were able to take but a few things from the cache.

Say They Went Southwest.

From here they then went southwest along the northwest coast of Heiberg Land to a point indicated on the map. (Sverdrup's Cape Northwest.)

From here they went across the ice, which was level and covered with snow, offering good going, to a low island which they had seen from the shore of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest. On this island they camped for one sleep.

The size and position of this island, as drawn by the first boy, was criticised by the second boy as being too large and too far to the west, the second boy calling the attention of the first to the fact that the position of the island was more nearly in line with the point where they had left Heiberg Land (Cape Northwest) and the channel between Amund Ringnes Land and Ellef Ringnes Land.

Changes Forbidden by Peary.

This criticism and correction was accepted by the first boy, who started to change the position of the island, but was stopped, as Commander Peary had given instructions that no changes or erasures were to be made in the route as drawn by the Eskimos on the chart.

From this island they could see two lands beyond (Sverdrup's Ellef Ringnes and Amund Ringnes Lands.) From the island they journeyed toward the left hand to one of these two lands (Amund Ringnes Land,) passing a small island which they did not visit.

Arriving at the shore of Amund Ringnes Land, the Eskimos killed a deer as indicated on the chart.

[The foregoing portion of the statement of the Eskimo boys covers the period of time in which Dr. Cook claims to have gone to the pole and back, and the entire time during which he could possibly have made any attempt to do it.]

Makes His Trip Impossible.

The answers of the Eskimo boys to Commander Peary's series of independent questions, showing that they killed no game, made no caches, lost no dogs and returned to the land with loaded sledges, makes their attainment of the pole on the trip north of Cape Thomas Hubbard a physical and mathematical impossibility, as it would demand the subsistence of three men and over twenty dogs during a journey of ten hundred and forty geographical miles on less than two sledge loads of supplies.

If it is suggested that perhaps Dr. Cook got mixed and that he reached the pole, or thought he did, between the time of leaving the northwest coast of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest, and his arrival at Ringes Land, where they killed the deer, we must then add to the date of Dr. Cook's letter of March 17, at or near Cape Thomas Hubbard, the subsequent four or five sleeps at that point, and the number of days required to march from Cape Thomas Hubbard to Cape Northwest (a distance of some sixty nautical miles), which would advance his date of departure from the land to at least March 25.

500 Miles in 27 Days.

We must also be prepared to accept the claim that Dr. Cook went from Cape Northwest (about latitude 80½ degrees north) to the pole, a distance of 570 geographical miles, in 27 days.

After killing the deer they then traveled south along the east side of Ringes Land to the point indicated on the chart, where they killed another deer.

They then went east across the south part of Crown Prince Gustav sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down through Norwegian bay, where they secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of their dogs, to the east side of Graham island; then eastward to the little bay marked "Eld's Fiord" on Sverdrup's chart; then southwest to Hell's Gate and Simmon's peninsula.

Where Open Water Lay.

Here for the first time during the entire journey, except as already noted off Cape Thomas H. Hubbard, they encountered open water. On this point the boys were clear, emphatic, and unshakable. They spent a good deal of time in this region, and finally abandoned their dogs and one sledge, took to their boat, crossed Hell's Gate to North Kent, up into Norfolk inlet, then back along the north coast of Colin Archer peninsula to Cape Vera, where they obtained fresh eider duck eggs. Here they cut the remaining sledge off, that it shortened it, as it was awkward to transport with the boat, and near here they killed a walrus.

The statement in regard to the fresh eider duck eggs permits the approximate determination of the date at this time as about the first of July. (This statement also serves, if indeed anything more than the inherent straightforwardness and detail of their narrative were needed, to substantiate the accuracy and truthfulness of the boys' statement. This locality of Cape Vera is mentioned in Sverdrup's narrative as the place where during his stay in that region he obtained eider ducks' eggs.)

Boys Give Daily Detail.

From Cape Vera they went on down into the southwest angle of Jones sound, where they killed a seal; thence east along the south coast of the sound, killing three bears at the point noted on the map, to the peninsula known as Cape Sparbo on the map, about midway on the south side of Jones sound. Here they killed some musk-oxen and, continuing east, killed four more at the place indicated on the chart, and were finally stopped by the pack ice at the mouth of Jones sound. From here they turned back to Cape Sparbo, where they wintered and killed many musk-oxen.

After the sun returned in 1909 they started, pushing their sledge, across Jones sound to Cape Tennyson; thence along the coast to Clarence Head (passing inside of two small islands not shown on the chart, but drawn on it by the boys), where they killed a bear; thence across the broad bight in the coast to Cadogan Fiord; thence around Cape Isabella and up to Commander Peary's old house in Payer harbor near Cape Sabine, where they found a seal cached for them by Panikpah, I-took-a-shoo's father. From here they crossed Smith sound on the ice, arriving at Anoratok.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Red Banks, Miss.—"Words are inadequate to express what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from a female disease and weakness which the doctors said was caused by a fibroid tumor, and I commenced to think there was no help for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman after all other means had failed. My friends are all asking what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Willie Edwards.

Hampstead, Maryland.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and could not be on my feet half a day without suffering. The doctors told me I never would be well without an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors, and I hope this valuable medicine may come into the hands of many more suffering women."—Mrs. Joseph H. Dandy.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has helped thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

PEARY'S CASE AGAINST COOK.

Commander Peary's brief in his case against Dr. Cook will strike most intelligent people, we believe, as being a lamentably weak presentation of evidence upon which his indictment of his rival is made to rest. Advised use is made of the word lamentably. For his own credit it was to be hoped Commander Peary had in possession evidence that must to himself appear entirely sufficient against the claims of Dr. Cook and would give warrant for his public denunciation of Cook as a faker and his reported pole discovery a "gold brick."

Here we find that Peary's entir case rests on the testimony of Eskimo boys who accompanied Cook on his expedition. These boys are made to take a chart and pick out a great variety of far distant localities and approximately fix the time of visiting them. That these barbarians of the north are capable of any such feat in geography as Peary ascribes to them is not easy to believe. That they may have been designing to completely deceive Peary is a much more reasonable supposition. Cook had strongly impressed on them that they were not to tell Peary. If they saw him, that Cook had reached the north pole. Harry Whitney testified that Cook's Eskimos told him at Etah they could not make out "what it was Commander Peary wanted them to say."

Dr. Cook says Peary's statement does not disturb him a bit and there is no reason why it should. Cook promises to have those two Eskimo boys in the United States as soon as they can be brought down. That is fair enough and it ought to prove conclusive enough. Meanwhile, Commander Peary's brief will not make a great impression anywhere.

BLIND TIGER CASES.

The keeper of a house of ill fame went forth from the city court yesterday under sentence of a heavy fine and a considerable term in jail. She had been convicted of running a blind tiger. As a matter of course an appeal has been taken and a different issue of the case is sought in a higher court. The case will be watched with interest because it is typical and the outcome of it will practically determine what the people may expect in respect of breaking up the blind tiger business here. The trial in this case held that a federal license is prima facie evidence of an intent to violate the law. That view of it should make other convictions easy. Just this one further point is worth considering. No effort of the police department need be looked for to stop the illicit sale of liquor in bawdy houses. That is proved by some things known and some things merely suspected. Houses of ill fame are neither molested nor made afraid by Fort Wayne's redoubtable police chief and his doughty minions. This fact should be a sufficient hint to Prosecutor Thomas to shuffle off a few coils of his official dignity and go out himself and mole into conditions on the jail flats and elsewhere.

WOMEN'S REST ROOM.

The sudden drop of the temperature to winter grade emphasizes in a sharp way the need of a public rest room for women down town. Arrangements fulfillment of a promise long ago given that this imperative need would be met, should be put promptly under way. It is not creditable to Fort Wayne that no place of rest and accommodation for women in from the country or surrounding towns or down town from the remoter parts of the city has ever been provided. The women of Allen county have petitioned for it and there is no reason at all for not making a highly satisfactory provision for them in the basement of the court house. There is an abundance of room there to meet every requirement of public service and at the same time spare a suitable and adequate room for rest quarters for women. The near approach of winter puts urgency upon this matter.

WILL PUNISH HAZERS.

Government Printing Office Employes Will Be Dismissed.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Having hazed, it is alleged, and while doing so seriously injured a newcomer in their midst, three apprentice boys and a plate printer are likely to lose their position in the bureau of engraving and printing. Hazing of new employes at the bureau is said to have been practiced for a long time. After an investigation of the present case, which had its inception about five days ago, Director Ralph made a report of the matter to the Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in which he recommended that the offending parties be dismissed.

Though the sale opened but ten days ago, only four of the lots remain unsold, and the movement is a remarkable one from the fact that the property was not a cheap tract of questionable value, but desirable real estate that brought good figures.

"My little grandson when a year old had eczema all over his whole body and head. It lasted nearly three years. He had big sores on his head and the matter would run from them. He suffered from the itching and burning and would scratch until he would bleed. He was a perfect sight. We tried every kind of salve and soap but they did no good. After spending hundreds of dollars, and having several doctors, which did him no good, we saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised and we got some to see if they would help him. We used the Cuticura Soap to wash him with and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. They cured him nicely. He is now five and has never been bothered with it since. FORT WAYNE AND ITS BEAUTIFICATION

Summarizing the Recommendations of Charles Mulford Robinson, Expert in Municipal Esthetics, for the Improvement of Fort Wayne, in His Report to the Fort Wayne Civic Improvement Association.

SECOND INSTALLMENT.

What Might Have Been Possible in the Way of an Official Quarter Had Earlier Opportunity Been Seized—Court of Honor Eastward from Court House to Maumee River—The New Pennsylvania Station Should Have Handsome Approach, with Plaza Opening on Widened Harrison Street—Formal Garden Between Harrison and Calhoun North of Lewis.

The Official Quarter

By CHARLES MULFORD ROBINSON.

Fort Wayne already has an official quarter, for the thre public biuldings respectively representative of county, nation and city, are ranged along a single street in the space of two blocks. But the arrangement is absolutely ineffective. The court house has the best site, but the most favorable view one can get of it is through alleys, since they alone center on its dome. Without grounds around it, surrounded by narrow streets, where tall buildings will soon seem to place it in a little walled court yard, one cannot even now get far enough away to see it as a whole. The two other buildings, occupying commonplace commercial sites, are hidden from one another by intervening structures. In the aggregate there is represented a very large public expenditure. One could almost throw a stone from structure to structure, yet there is no cumulative effect.

Problem is Difficult.

To the problem of creating out of these adjacent, but distinct units a single civic composition that should make a civic center, I have devoted a great deal of thought. The practical difficulties, due to important improvements and high property values, are almost prohibitive. Yet values on Berry street, between the court house and city hall are not going to diminish or stand still. They seem as certain as any in the city to advance, and unless a plan involving this property can be carried out, it is not likely ever to be executed. Neither can there reasonably be anticipated the building of a new court house and new postoffice on new sites. The one hope of a civic center for many years lies in dealing with the present situation.

The condition is a striking illustration of the value to a community of getting to a city plan as early as possible. Foreseeing a big, costly court house on its present site, there might have been created, before the Foster and the Elektron buildings were erected, a broad, beautiful mall leading directly eastward to terminate in the bluff at the bend of the Maumee river at Monroe street.

Chance for Beautiful Mall.

An alley, on the axis of the court house dome, now traverses the distance, and it would have been necessary only to widen this. From Barr street to Clay there are only gardens even now. It is a fair question whether for those two blocks the mall would not be more benefit than damage to the property through which it would pass. The property between Clay and Monroe streets is shallow and not now expensive. The costly part of the scheme today is only the block and a half between the court house and Barr street. Of this, the first half block was once public property, and would simply have been kept as the court house square. The block from Clinton to Barr would have offered on either side the mall, appropriate sites for postoffice, city hall and convention building, so greatly reducing the net cost. There would have been conferred on the neighborhood and on the city at large a great benefit. Increased assessments would long ere this have paid for the improvement.

What Might Have Been.

And think what we should have: An opportunity to see the court house and a Court of Honor, the court house at its west end, harmonious public buildings flanking either side to Barr street. Between them, for vehicle traffic, would have remained on Main and Berry streets, a broad grass ribbon, on each side of it a promenade extending from the court house square to the river bluff, where is opened an entrancing view. Here a flagstaff would have stood in honor of Wayne's stand, and at Old Fort park, which curving ends would have brought into the mall scheme, his statue might well have been placed.

Coming into Fort Wayne by Nickel Plate train, or standing at the little park at the eastern terminus of the mall, how fine a view of the court house would have been presented; how beautiful a civic picture; what an impression would have been gained of the city! Or turning to look north and east we would have had the meeting of the three rivers and the view down the lovely Maumee.

Doubtless the plan will seem impossible now, for today it would take a great deal of money. But the thought of how effectually a comparatively small measure of construction has blocked so fine a possibility should give heart to do promptly whatever can still be done.

The Problem as It Is.

We have to accept the three present public buildings as fixed points so far as their location is concerned. A convention hall, however, is contemplated, and there naturally would be advantage in a central location. Either of two sites might be, in my judgment, properly selected for it, according as it is proposed to make it contribute to one scheme or the other.

For the development of a civic center, it might be put on the north side of Berry street, between the Elektron building and Barr street. There is nothing which is very expensive on this site, and its advantages for the purpose are many. In its convenience, indeed, the site is all that could be desired, and the public building here would tie together the postoffice and the city hall. Between the latter two there is already, in the postoffice yard and the Majestic's open air theater a good deal of open ground. If it should be possible to throw it all open we should have three public buildings gathered around three sides of a square and a very presentable little civic center ready made.

Would Emphasize Grouping.

Meanwhile, location here would further emphasize the grouping of the public buildings. It reserves a bit of land that will never be less valuable, insuring a safe investment, and if a mall were ever opened to the court house, in order that the latter might be revealed, the convention hall on this site would profit directly from the scheme and would in turn enhance it.

As to the possibility of opening the mall there is no other side from which such an approach to the court house can be made. The existing alley is fourteen feet wide, and the Elektron building stops nine feet short of it. As there is nothing else prohibitive in the plat, an approach thirty-two feet wide is blocked today only by the Foster building.

To put the convention hall on this site would be, then, to secure an exceedingly convenient location; to feel entire safety regarding the investment value of the property; to add somewhat to the official quality which the neighborhood already possesses, and to be ready for a fine civic effect should either, or both, of two possibilities eventuate in the municipal development of the surrounding land. It is the one chance for further developing and accentuating the present official quarter.

Approaches to the New Station.

I said there was an alternative site for the convention hall. This other site would bring it into the station plan.

Very clearly the building of a new and costly station, which is to be much larger than the old and not improbably a Union station, develops a civic opportunity which almost amounts to an obligation. If the railroads have a faith in Fort Wayne that leads them to do so much, the municipality should show a like confidence and arrange to the new station an adequate approach.

Two practical considerations, as distinguished from the sentimental one, urge promptness in such action. First, the improvement is likely to result in the rapid rebuilding of the neighborhood with the consequence that conditions will become fixed and values largely raised. When the station has been opened to business it will be too late to change street lines unless heavy expense can be incurred.

Increased Traffic Provision.

Second, it is obvious that a large new station, which will soon be the point of arrival and departure for many more trains and many more passengers than the little station of today, is going to create a great increase in the traffic of the streets leading to it, and for such increase there is now no provision. Finally, the appearance of a city when one comes out of a station makes the first, and therefore the most lasting impressions upon strangers. The station is the door of the city, and space before it is the city's vestibule.

I think it may be taken for granted that the new station will be located not on the present site, but west of Calhoun street on the north side of the tracks. The Pennsylvania railroad has acquired a long frontage here. On the assumption that the new station will be placed west of Calhoun, and probably extending well beyond Harrison, I make the following suggestions:

Bridge Over Harrison.

1. That the company be granted the permission, which I fancy will be asked, to construct the new building on the two blocks from Calhoun to Webster, but that instead of closing Harrison street between Baker and the railroad, they be required to bridge it, that it may still be used for subway passage to the south side of the tracks. This will impose no impossible obligation on the company, for the main part of the station will in any case be at the track level. But it will give to the city and additional subway where it is much needed, and will make an additional direct connection between the station and the southern part of town.

2. That a plaza be formed in front of the station. This the city can do at little cost, for this is still a section of narrow brick sidewalks and inexpensive detached dwellings. While a square would be the most natural form for the plaza, this particular shape is by no means necessary. Some irregularity, should property owners be unreasonable, need not be feared, so long as there be given ample room for cabs, carriages, automobiles, omnibuses, mail and baggage wagons.

Widen Harrison Street.

3. That Harrison street be widened from 60 feet to 80 feet, for the three blocks to Lewis, where it makes its slight turn and where now its width becomes sixty-six feet. This can hardly be done too soon, for already the Stults apartments, under construction in this section of the street as this report is written, are being built flush with the walk. With that exception, however, the houses now stand back from the street line, leaving clear as yet the space required. There is no doubt that with the location of the station, the character of this part of the street will change, that much rebuilding will take place, and that a widening of the street will confer upon the property a benefit close indeed to the loss that could be occasioned by moving the frontage back ten feet on a side. To be sure, the street is paved. For the present, this pavement need not be disturbed. Railroads do not move as fast as do their trains and it is likely to be a number of years before track elevation and a new station are completed. Meanwhile, and until the traffic actually demands wider space, the addition to the street's width may be thrown into parking. That there will be eventually need of a wide street here, no one who believes in Fort Wayne can doubt. We have seen that the conditions which lead to congestion on Calhoun street are fundamental and permanent: that the street has now reached nearly its maximum capacity. As that point is approached, diversion of traffic is necessary. This must ultimately throw on Harrison street an additional burden beyond that imposed by the station travel. If city-planning is worth anything, it must look forward to that time and so enable you to prepare for it.

Cut Down Douglas Avenue.

4. Douglas avenue, which is a block south of Lewis street, marks the crest of a slight rise. Next to a bad pavement, nothing is more abhorrent to traffic than is a grade. If we are to fit Harrison street for traffic, and expect to divert to it the excess traffic that would otherwise crowd upon Calhoun street, we shall do well, when the time comes for relaying and widening the Harrison street pavement, to cut down the grade. The fact that this has been done only on Calhoun street has certainly been no slight factor in the business development of that street.

There will be, however, further advantage in cutting the street down. With a beautiful station fronting on a plaza, and closing the southern vista at this part of Harrison street, and with the broadened street—the one wide, stately modern street in Fort Wayne—leading into this we shall have, looking south from Lewis, a very fine effect if the grade be so leveled that no intervening crest breaks the view. And coming from the station, and looking across the plaza and down the broad, handsomely proportioned approach, there will be offered a very stunning first impression of the city if a leveling of the way shall make it possible to see as far as Lewis street.

Wayne Statue at Lewis.

At that point the street makes a slight bend to the left, and even though the street were widened to a further point, the vista would be closed. This is a point, then, to emphasize and dignify, a point to be given as distinct and interesting accent as, at the other end of the way the station will afford.

Therefore I suggest that here be placed the statue or monument to Anthony Wayne, for which the levy in the taxes is gradually creating a substantial fund. What more dignified and splendid setting could be found for it; what location more appropriate than that which at a three blocks distance will crown the imposing street that leads away from the station? The traveler's first view of Fort Wayne, as he sets foot in the city, would include as the focal point of the picture, as the terminus of his perspective, the monument to the soldier for whom the city is named.

And fronting also upon the statue might be the convention hall. For this the northwest corner of Harrison and Lewis streets seems to me admirably adapted. The property is inexpensive; it gives frontage on two streets; it is centrally located; it is within short walking distance not only of all hotels but of the railroad station, from which, indeed, it could be seen, and with which it would have such noble connection as could not fail to impress. This is the alternative site I had in mind in speaking of the official quarter. On one of these two sites, it seems to me, the Convention hall should be placed.

Formal Garden Here, Also.

But even these suggestions do not reveal the whole of my station approach plan. Just north of Lewis street an alley leads east from Harrison to Calhoun, and one of the slender twin spires of the Cathedral looms finely at its end. Suppose the space between Lewis and this alley, now containing nothing of large value, were acquired and transformed into a beautiful formal garden, the street and somewhat widened alley forming a double roadway on either side of this middle garden. There would be opened a noble view of the Cathedral. There would be opened from Calhoun street a view of the Wayne statue and the Convention hall. There would be acquired at a strategic, and yet comparatively inexpensive point, the only open space in the business district of Fort Wayne. There would be offered to the Convention hall a lovely outlook. There would be established between the imposing station approach and Calhoun street an interesting and worthy connection. There would be created big values for the property, which is now of little value, on the south side of Lewis street and on the north side of the alley, because it would front on this park, and the increased assessable value of this property, permanent and growing, would soon pay for the cost of the improvement. In a little while you could say that you got this centrally located block for nothing. It is my belief that all these gains make abundantly worth while the acquirement of that little half block of poorly-developed property. You certainly then, in the complete carrying out of this scheme, would have something worth while, and people would begin to talk of Fort Wayne as a handsome and beautiful city.

Station Would Be Union One.

If so much is to be done for the approaches to the new railroad station, to the end that arrival and departure there shall be made convenient, and that travelers who enter Fort Wayne shall be well impressed, every effort should be exerted to make the station truly a union one. Only so will the proposed improvements confer the largest possible benefit. By "union" I mean that it shall be used by trains of every road entering the city. So far as trackage is concerned, that is entirely feasible.

In closing this discussion of plans for suitable station approach, it is perhaps necessary to emphasize once more the point that there is no proposal that the whole improvement be made at once. It will be enough for the present to acquire the necessary land. And delay as to this may make the whole plan impracticable. The city has already lost one great chance that should teach a lesson in its failure to provide in time for a Civic center. A combination of circumstances happily offers such another opportunity in connection with station development—a chance to create the best station approach, as far as I know, of any city of its size in the United States.

City Should Act at Once.

It can be foreseen, too, that the property involved is destined to change rapidly in value and character. The city must act at once or assume the grave responsibility of denying to the future Fort Wayne the opportunity for any large and fine civic effect here. It is possible that to secure the plan property-owners on Harrison street would donate the small frontage required for the street's ultimate widening. Certainly they could afford to do so. In such case a comparatively small bond issue would buy the lots needed for the station plaza and the half block for the park. The development of the purchased property, when the time came for that, could be assessed properly on the frontage.

With reference to the track elevation, as the city is to pay 25 per cent of the cost of overhead crossing at the street, it has very properly required that the companies submit to it the plans and estimates for the work. This gives the municipality the opportunity to insist that the bridges, conspicuous as these will prove in the street view, shall be of pleasing design, ornament and color. On this point there should be unmovable insistence.

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

There is no way to cure Catarrh except to purify the blood, and thus do away with the cause. The symptoms may be benefited by the use of washes, inhalations, sprays, medicated tobaccos, etc., and through the use of such treatment catarrh sufferers receive temporary relief and comfort. External and local measures however cannot have any effect on the blood and therefore their use alone is of no real curative value. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, and comes as the result of catarrhal matter and other impurities in the circulation. These morbid matters in the blood cause an inflammatory and irritated condition of the mucous membrane or tissue lining of the cavities of the body, producing an unhealthy secretion, ringing noises in the ears, stuffy feeling in the head and nose, headaches, hoarseness, bronchial affections, watery eyes, etc. S.S.S. is the best treatment for Catarrh because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. This medicine removes every particle of the catarrhal impurity from the circulation, making this vital fluid pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, because they are nourished with pure, health-giving blood, every symptom disappears, and soon S.S.S. produces a perfect cure. S.S.S. does not contain any habit-forming drugs, which really never can cure Catarrh, but often ruin the health. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

REFORMED ORPHAN BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Improvements Planned for Local Home and Land Will be Purchased.

The board of directors of the local orphans' home of the Reformed church held an important business meeting at the institution on Tuesday, during which officers were elected and plans made for the benefit of the home. Rev. P. S. Kohler, of St. Mary's, O., former secretary of the board, was elected president; Rev. S. H. Diehm, of Huntington, was chosen secretary, and Rev. John H. Bosch, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, Fort Wayne, was re-elected treasurer. Excellent work continues to be accomplished at the home under the direction of the superintendent and matron, Rev. and Mrs. B. Ruf.

Various plans for the progress of the home were discussed at the meeting. An additional amount of land will be purchased and added to the already extensive farm property of the orphanage. The main building will be exteriorally improved and improvements also made among the other buildings.

Apropos of the Reformed synod, which closed this week in Huntington, many of the ministers have availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the home and at the present time the genial superintendent is host for a number of clerical guests.

Rev. Henry Schmidt, pastor of a Reformed church in Cleveland, will visit in Fort Wayne next Monday when he will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. John H. Bosch. The visitor will be en route to Plymouth, Wis., to attend a meeting of the official board of the Reformed mission house, of which he is a member.

Rev. Richard A. Most, a Reformed churchman from Kaukauna, Wis., who has been attending the synod at Huntington, is enjoying a brief visit at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buecher, who reside in the country in the vicinity of Robison park.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES.

Educational Rally a Success and Many Students Enter Classes.

Well attended and marked by considerable enthusiasm was the "educational rally" held on Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. Teachers of the various classes were present meeting new students and enrolling those who were desirous of embracing the various branches that are being taught under the auspices of the association. The success of the evening's work was exceedingly gratifying to all concerned and besides the students that have already affiliated with the classes, others will also be received.

The first meeting of the gymnasium class, under the direction of Miss Gertrude Wilding, will be held next Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock. Miss Anna Philley's class in physical culture and expression will meet next Tuesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. The same evening and at the same hour Miss Carrie Sperry's class in English will meet. Madam de Cinq-Mars Rost's evening class in the study of French will meet Tuesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. The first Bible Study class meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, October 21, under the direction of Miss Opal Ray, the local general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. At 8:15 o'clock on the same evening, the "Embroidery Class" will have a sewing session. Next week also, at a date to be announced later a meeting of the Steadfast Gleaners will be held at which plans will be completed for the organization of a "Mission Study Class," the members to make a study of the interesting mission study book entitled "Sunrise in Sunrise Kingdom."

The devotional committee of the Y. W. C. A. met recently and have completed their plans for the conduct of the Sunday afternoon vesper services during the present month. Next Sunday at 4 o'clock the meeting will be led by Mrs. John House. Vocalists for the occasion will be Miss Georgia Saylor and Miss Edith Heit. Following each Sunday afternoon service, the attendants will enjoy a social "tea." Miss Karen Aamodt will be the next hostess.

Sunday, October 24, Mrs. Fred Thieme will lead the meeting, the chorus from the Third Presbyterian church will sing and later Miss Lauthen will preside as hostess.

The meeting Sunday afternoon, October 31, will be a "Proverb Meeting," of which Miss Anna Ruehm will be leader. Vocal selections will be rendered by the quartet from Bethel Evangelical church and Miss Emma Ringwalt will do the honors as hostess.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHOIR.

Dudley Buck Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon.

Next Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church a musical program of special interest will be rendered. In honor of the memory of the late Dudley Buck, America's greatest composer of sacred music, a chorus of twenty, composed of quartet choirs from the various churches of the city, will participate in a musical half hour service. Birt Somers, organist, and Charles H. Worden, of the music committee, have chosen Ernest F. Schaefer to direct the service, as he was the author of the memorial service idea for this occasion.

As a tribute to the memory of Dudley Buck many of the choirs of the local churches will render selections from the great composer at the Sunday services. At the First church the organist will play the organ prelude to the cantata, "The Coming of the King," followed by a soprano solo by Miss Agnes Stemen, after which the chorus, made up of twenty of the best known vocalists of the city, will sing the anthem, "Arise, Shine, for Thy Light Is Come." The Dudley Buck quartet work in the rendition of the Dudley Buck setting of "Lead Kindly Light" promises to be especially pleasing. Miss Kay Spencer will sing as a closing number for the service "The Virgin's Lullaby" from "The Coming of the King."

Mr. Schaefer is to be commended on the idea of the memorial musical service and the program at the First church Sunday will undoubtedly be thoroughly enjoyed.

Men of Wayne Street M. E. Church Plan Attractive Event.

Under the auspices of the Men's club of Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church a social for members and friends will be given at the church next Monday evening. Under the title of "A Shadow Social," if present plans mature, the event promises to be one of the most entertaining and amusing affairs ever given by the board. To B. J. Griswold will be mainly due the honors of the evening, for he will silhouette the guests as they arrive and later people will see themselves as others see them. The plan promises to be mirth-provoking to say the least, and after all have been regaled with pictures, refreshments will be served and a social reunion enjoyed. Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of Wayne street church, is chairman and the various committee members for the affair have already been announced.

SPOKE TO MEN'S CLUB.

Editor Best, of the Interior, at Presbyterian Church.

The Men's club of the Third Presbyterian church held their first meeting of the season of 1909-10 last night in the parlors of the church and after the transaction of business the members had the pleasure of listening to an address by Nolan R. Best, of Chicago, the editor of the Interior, one of the leading publications of the Presbyterian denomination. His theme was "Four Much Dodged Words." These words were pious, consecrated, spiritual and holy, which, he said, modern men seemed to object to as applied to them and their lives. They were willing to be viewed as church members and Christians, but when the term "pious" or "consecrated" or "holy" was applied to them they showed their disapproval. They, apparently, were almost as willing to be called a horse thief as to be called a saint. It looked too much as if they were different from other men and outside of the world today.

The speaker thought there was too much of this sort of feeling among the men of the churches. They could be pious and consecrated and spiritual without being fanatics or being compelled to withdraw themselves from the affairs of the active business world. They ought to have piety; they ought to be consecrated to their church just as much as they are to their business. And they ought to approach perfectness in their lives as much as possible.

The address was scholarly and helpful, of that practical character that benefited the hearers and it was interesting. At its close the club served a lunch of doughnuts and coffee. A smoker followed.

REV. H. B. MASTER AT HOME.

Returns from Presbyterian Synodical Meeting at South Bend.

This evening at the mid-week prayer service at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Henry B. Master will deliver a sermon on the topic, "A Foresight of Faith." The local pastor returned today from South Bend, where he was attending the annual Presbyterian synodical meeting. Speakers at the prayer service of the synod on Tuesday evening were Dr. F. Balcon Shaw, of Chicago; Dr. Charles L. Thompson, of New York City, and Charles C. Bradt, of Chicago.

During the sessions of the synod, several plans were made for the improvement of the Indiana plan for the conduct of Home Missions. In all the 1909 meeting of the ministers and delegates was one of the most successful the synod in this state has ever held.

"ALCO" SUITS AND OVERCOATS STRIKE THE KEYNOTE OF STYLE.

It is seldom that best styles and moderate cost are combined. In "ALCO" garments a distinctly characteristic and individual style-note is struck—at prices to please the possessor of a modest income as well as those in more favored circumstances. It takes judgment and thought to show such a combination of exclusiveness and price inducement.

That "ALCO" makers possess both is evidenced by our wonderful showing of "ALCO SYSTEM" Clothes for Fall and Winter. All the latest effects—the pleasing little kinks in the newest shades and color combinations.

teresting and instructive. His topic was "Developing a Missionary Atmosphere" and drawing an analogy from the commercial world, he gave four laws for developing atmosphere: First, good goods; second, believing in your goods; third, use the best advertising, and fourth, keep at it. He then drew an analogy from the development of patriotism in our national life, especially in the public schools. The missionary spirit is Christianity's patriotism. In the school the love of patriotism is developed in many ways. The speaker then proceeded to explain how this development could be effected and in conclusion referred to the Christian flag, a widely known flag; white with a blue field with a red cross, and gave a salute that had been used to good advantage in many Sunday schools.

WEDDED SIX TIMES AND FOUR TIMES DIVORCED

That is Record of Woman in a Slander Suit at Marion.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 13.—The case of Lulu Strong against Andy Rusch for damages in the sum of $7,500 occupied the attention of the court and jury in the circuit court here yesterday and today. The case comes from Fairmount, having been filed Sept. 24, 1908, and concerns two rival restaurant keepers. It was developed during the hearing that Mrs. Strong had been wedded six times and four times divorced, an unusual matrimonial record for one so young. The defendant is said to have removed to Louisville since the action was filed but he was formerly a well known Fairmount business man, the proprietor of the meat market and restaurant on Main street. Mrs. Strong had a restaurant across the street from the Rusch restaurant and kept a rooming house adjoining Mr. Strong's house.

The action for slander is based on statements Mr. Rusch is alleged to have made concerning Mrs. Strong and the character of the rooming house she kept and the alleged fact that Rusch asked Millard Keim, a night watchman, to search Mrs. Strong's house.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 13.—John B. McCaughey, who is confined in the jail on a charge of murdering Frank Hall, will say nothing about the case except to declare his innocence and that he will be able to prove an alibi when he is brought into court. It is thought that he knows who wielded the knife which resulted in Hall's death and probably had more to do with the stabbing than appears on the surface.

It is believed that the real name of the mysterious "Doc," who is charged with being the man who stabbed Hall, is not unknown to McGaughey and probably other of the workmen employed on the Pennsylvania grade and an effort will be made to bring about his arrest.

A puzzling feature of the case is the failure of Hall to tell who stabbed him, even after he was aware that he had but a short time to live.

McGaughey cautioned him to keep still about the affair a short time after he was stabbed and the wounded man obeyed the instructions from some unknown reason, even when death was fast approaching.

In every respect the case promises to be one of the most puzzling which has been brought before the local officers in recent years.

Nervous Dyspepsia And Neurasthenia

Weakness of the Nervous System Often Dependent Upon Long-continued Indigestion.

Neurasthenia, also known as "nervous exhaustion," "nervous debility," and "nervous prostration," is a disease, which in these modern, strenuous times is becoming more and more prevalent. It is a condition in which there is more or less marked and persistent loss of energy, together with considerable irritability.

Persons who suffer from this trouble are easily excited and irritated; cannot do as much work as formerly, and in attempting any mental effort, quickly become confused, and are unable to concentrate the attention. They also complain of insomnia, nervous indigestion, depression of spirits, and palpitation of the heart.

There is a general muscular weakness; the person cannot walk very far, and tires quickly on attempting physical exertion. There is ringing in the ears; blurring of eyesight; headache and vertigo; specks floating before the eyes, and a general restlessness. The ability to sustain prolonged intellectual effort is interfered with, and the patient imagines he is losing his memory.

Neurasthenics continually watch for new symptoms, unconsciously exaggerate the old ones, attaching undue importance to them. Causeless fear is often suffered from a dread of some impending danger; extreme pessimism; dark forebodings, and hysteria. Sleep is not refreshing, and the person feels much more tired in the morning than at night. Horrible dreams and nightmare are usually complained of.

But by far the most prominent manifestation of Neurasthenia is Nervous Dyspepsia. In nearly every case, this disturbance of the stomach dominates the complaint. Cause and effect may be transposed, and dyspepsia may be the result of Neurasthenia, but oftener, indigestion is the original cause of the nervous condition. The nerves are simply "starved" because the stomach does not digest the food properly, and as the nerves are dependent upon the food which the blood absorbs from the stomach for their sustenance, any deprivation thereof is sure to cause nerve weakness.

The use of "nerve tonics" in this condition is a mistake; they merely stimulate, but do not rebuild nerve tissue. Completely digested food is the only true nerve builder and strengthener; and in the treatment of nervous exhaustion, one should first cure the nervous dyspepsia, which is usually the origin of the trouble, by taking STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS in doses of one or two after each meal, or whenever needed, and the long train of nervous symptoms will be cured along with the nervous dyspepsia.

This celebrated remedy is without a peer in the treatment of nervous indigestion and in fact, indigestion of any kind. They digest all the food with great thoroughness, and facilitate its absorption by the blood, which carries it to the weakened, diseased nerves and builds them up, so that every symptom of Nervous Exhaustion is gotten rid of.

PENISA MAID TAKES FEATURE FROM MARGIN

Was Odds-on Favorite in the Betting and an Easy Winner.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 13.—Penisa Maid scored a straight heat victory in the Walnut Hall Farm cup race for trotters of the 2:15 class, which was the feature of the postponed sixth day card at the Breeders' meeting. Penisa Maid was an odds-on favorite over the field and won the first two heats handily, but in the third she lasted barely long enough to get to the wire a nose in front of Margin.

Favorites were defeated in the other two races, Geraldine winning the 2:08 pace, and Melva J. the 2:18 trot. Ella Ambulator was the choice for the 2:08 pace. She won the second heat by a nose from Geraldine, but the Daughter of Cutting, under the skillful driving of Geers, outtrotted and outgamed her in the other three heats.

YOU CANNOT BE "STUNG"

Your Clothing

The success of this business lies largely in the fact that every man or boy who knows us, knows that he is welcome to bring back anything which does not give the measure satisfaction he demands.

Of course, the maintenance of such a policy implies merchandise of a quality which will give ample satisfaction—that's why we don't have the cheapest grades of goods.

But after all, the policy itself is what makes the business.

Once a man realizes that the element of chance is absolutely eliminated—that he can not be "stung," he buys generously what he fancies.

We're careful to have cloths and cuts which appeal to the fancy as well as to cold common sense.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all druggists.

We are after your trade this fall with the greatest line of fine clothing that has ever been shown in Fort Wayne.

MULLIN FANNED THE MIGHTY WAGNER IN PINCH

Big Wabash Boy Game to the Core With Men on Bases.

And again the mighty Hans Wagner struck out. He not only struck out, but he sent his bat whizzing through the ozone with two Pirates perched on bases waiting for the hefty swat that both felt the Flying Dutchman would give that ball, but the big Pittsburg star was helpless before the magnificent pitching of George Mullin and as the third strike popped into Stanage's glove the Teuton slugger sheepishly walked to the bench, but few noticed him as the shivering fans had their eyes on Mullin and rent the wintry air with applause for his magnificent work.

Gauging his work by the average pitching standard George Mullin ought to have won that opening game over at Pittsburg and he would have done so but for some ragged work behind him. Yesterday, in spite of the extremely cold weather, he was in form and the bloody Pirates were pygmies in the hand of a pitching giant who fanned ten of their number and besides the great Wagner, Manager Fred Clarke, one of the heavy sluggers of the National league, was among those who breezed and he breezed with men on bases.

There was no spectacular playing outside of the pitching of George Mullin. He not only had complete command of the ball, but he showed his grit and was at his best when the Pirates were going at their best speed and threatening to cross the plate. Detroit has taken on fresh courage. An even break in the Pirate stronghold and a win before the biggest crowd that ever saw a game of baseball in the world had given birth to the hope that the third attempt of the Tiger crew to take a world's championship would prove successful.

Then came that crushing defeat when the National leaguers ran the bases like wild and hit the ball at will and gave every evidence of possessing that vaunted dash and courage that won the honors in their own organization. Detroit was so clearly outclassed in this battle that the most ardent admirers of the Jennings outfit felt that the team was slipping and that a repetition of the defeats at the hands of the Cubs was in store.

At Pittsburg there is a charge of crookedness by a fan who says the series is being worked from the box office standpoint rather than for the purpose of determining which is the better team of the two. This charge is based on the fact that Howard Camnitz was sent in to pitch the second game when he was not physically fit by reason of a recent operation to take up the burden of a championship game.

It is claimed that this suspicion was given strength when Leifield was picked to go against Mullin when "Babe" Adams had already shown he was fit for the going by the defeat he administered on the opening day. It is not likely, however, that ball players who share only in the receipts of the first four games of the series would play ball through weather like the last two days if there was a possible chance to get through with it.

The Disciples of Christ, who are holding a convention in Pittsburg, evidently enjoy th egreat sport as it is reported that about a thousand of them bought seats yesterday and last night for the game.

REXALLS SLIP OVER TWO GAMES OF SERIES

Magnolias Fight Hard But Fail to Win the First and Third.

Meyer's Rexalls had a desperate fight in the second Brunswick Bowling league last night to win from the Magnolias and took the first game by a margin of only five pins. The Mags spurted in the second and tabbed a big score, but the remedy crowd came along with some consistent bowling in the third and took it by forty-nine pins.

King copped off the top score of the evening with 179 although Baade gave him a fight for the honor by running up 178 in the last game. Cook was high for the winners with 177. The scores:

FOUR PIRATES DRAW FINES

Camnitz, Clarke, Leach and Gibson Penalized for Wrangling.

Detroit, Oct. 13.—The national commission announced yesterday that it had fined Camnitz, Clarke, Leach and Gibson of Pittsburg $25 each for their dilatory tactics and umpire baiting in Monday's game. The trouble came in the seventh inning, when the Detroit team made its rally. Miller threw wildly to Abstein and the Pittsburg players made the claim that Moriarity had interfered with Abstein on the play. This started a long wrangle. Manager Clarke was fined for calling Umpire O'Loughlin an "American Leaguer," thus alleging that he was not giving the National leaguers a fair deal.

THE SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

NEW AGENT AT ARCOLA.

H. E. Rancevau Succeeds J. H. Barnell.

H. E. Rancevau has been appointed station agent at Arcola for the Pennsylvania company, succeeding J. H. Barnell, deceased. Mr. Rancevau was telegraph operator at Winona for several months. He was employed on the Nickel Plate before he went to the Pennsylvania. Mr. Barnell had been placed on the retired list, being seventy years old, and was taken sick and died soon after relinquishing the duties of his office at the Arcola ticket station. He was sick only a few days before his death.

DELANO RE-ELECTED.

Wabash Company Places Him at Head of Roster.

At the annual meeting of the Wabash stockholders at Toledo yesterday all of the old members of the board of directors except William B. Sanders, of Cleveland, were re-elected. Jay Gould, the youngest son of George J. Gould, was elected to succeed Mr. Sanders. The re-election of F. A. Delano to a directorate is taken as positive evidence that he will accept re-election to the office of president of the company. The board of directors as now constituted is George J. Gould, Edward T. Jeffery, Edgar T. Welles, Robert C. Clowery, Thomas H. Hubbard, John T. Terry, J. J. Slosum, Winslow S. Pierce, Robert M. Galloway and Frederick A. Delano, all of New York; S. C. Reynolds, of Toledo; Wells H. Blodgett, of St. Louis, and Jay Gould, of New York. According to the laws of the company the directors must hold a meeting and elect officers within ten days after the stockholders' meeting. The company operates a total of 3,874 miles of road and President Delano's report showed the property in good condition and business on the lines good and increasing. He said in part:

"The fiscal year just closed represents a period of gradual recovery from the financial disturbances which culminated in October, 1907, the first five months of the year showing large decreases in earnings compared with the same months of the year previous, but the succeeding seven months showing a steadily increasing improvement over the previous year."

Colonel S. C. Reynolds, one of the directors, has served in that capacity continuously forty years, he being first elected in 1869. After the meeting he entertained the visiting Wabash officials and stockholders at luncheon at the Toledo club, C. H. Newton, general claim agent and formerly a resident of Fort Wayne, being one of the guests.

SNOW ON THE G. R. & I.

Roofs of Cars From North Covered With It.

A snow storm raged in Southern Michigan yesterday afternoon and last evening and cars from that district arriving here bore evidences of the severity of the storm. At Kalamazoo the snow fall was about four inches and at some of the places north of that point, including Grand Rapids, the fall was over five inches. A car which came down from the north last night and which was left on a siding near the depot in this city, had four inches of the "beautiful" on its roof. It attracted considerable attention from people passing that way.

TAKING ON MORE MEN.

The Bass boiler shop is getting busy and is making additions to its force whenever the right men apply for work. Yesterday four boilermaker helpers and two rivet heaters were hired. They were Joseph Metker, Charles Foltz, Francis Birt, A. M. Hughes, Albert Cramer and Edward Taylor. The two last named are rivet heaters. In addition to other boiler work, the shop has on hand the making of the immense track water tank the Pennsylvania will install at Dola.

WEEK END EXCURSION.

An error in the Sentinel yesterday made it appear that the Nickel Plate has in contemplation a week-end excursion to Chicago October 30. It should have read "to Cleveland." The error brought to the notice of the ticket agents the fact that week-end excursions are popular, for they have been busy answering questions over the phone since the Sentinel went to press yesterday.

HAVE MEETING TONIGHT.

The executive committee and the officers of the Pennsylvania Employes' Veteran association will have a meeting tonight at the office of Pennsylvania Shop Clerk J. H. Hobrock. The object of the meeting is to close up some matters that were in an unfinished condition when adjournment took place at the last meeting.

SOME PAY DAYS.

Every railway company whose lines enter Fort Wayne will pay its employes within the next six days. The first is the G. R. & I., whose paymaster will arrive here next Saturday. Then comes the Pennsylvania and the Wabash on Tuesday and the Nickel Plate at a time not yet announced.

OLD PASSENGER MAN DEAD.

David B. Martin, passenger traffic manager of the Baltimore and Ohio road, died at Atlantic City Monday, aged sixty years. Before going to the B. & O., in 1897, he was connected with the passenger department of the Big Four, having jurisdiction which included Indiana.

NECK PAINFULLY BURNED.

W. C. Berry, of the Pennsylvania boiler shop, sustained a painful and most peculiar injury this morning. While at work a hot rivet lodged against his neck and burned the flesh. He is off duty as a result.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

E. W. Seibert, of the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty.

B. F. Sarver has returned from a business trip to Pittsburg.

John McLaughlin, a boilermakers' helper, took a position at the Wabash shops this morning.

L. R. Anderson, who had been sick a week, resumed his work in the Pennsylvania boiler shop this morning.

Charles Wilt, of the Pennsylvania draughting room, is at Huntington, Ind., to attend a wedding of a relative.

Engine 814, which had been in "white lead" at the Wabash yards, was turned over to service this morning.

H. F. Franke, clerk for Commercial Agent Wagner, of the G. R. & I., has gone to Kalamazoo to spend a week's vacation with relatives.

N. F. Christian, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, suffered severe injury to his left foot this morning. A driving rod fell on the member and bruised it.

Adam LaMar, chief car inspector, and Captain H. M. Deihl, air brake instructor for the Pennsylvania, have returned from a business trip to Cleveland.

Assistant Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, of the Pennsylvania, returned home this morning, after attending to business at Pittsburg and Wellsville for the company.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gay have returned home, after two weeks spent at St. Louis, Kansas City and Topeka, with relatives. Mr. Gay is employed in the car repair department of the Wabash.

The Pennsylvania football team is anxious to have a game next Saturday. Walter Adams, of 1308 Union street, will arrange for such an event with the challenging team.

T. L. Comparet, bookkeeper at the Bass offices on Hanna street, resumed that duty this morning, after an absence on account of the sickness and death of his aged mother.

The Pioneer Association of Lake Shore and Michigan Southern employes will hold the second annual meeting at Elkhart, in the B. L. E. hall, October 25. The association has a membership of 150.

The Kendallville News says the G. R. & I. yards in that city are crowded almost to the point of congestion and suggests that the company give more trackage. "Shippers find considerable difficulty in handling cars," the News says.

At the next meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, Mrs. Perkins, of Toledo, will deliver an address in the interest of the Women's Union Label league. She will come here then in the interest of the league and do some other work.

The Bass Boilermakers' Bowling team and a team composed of pattern-makers at the same establishment will have a game at the Brunswick alleys on Thursday evening, October 21. This will be the first of a series of games that will probably continue until after the holidays.

Bellevue Gazette: "Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bowser, of Fort Wayne, Ind., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Sauer, of Sandusky street. Mr. Bowser is superintendent of the Bowser Oil Tank Co., of Fort Wayne. Mrs. Edward Hindel and Mrs. C. A. Durnell, of Fort Wayne, who have been guests of Mrs. Sauer, returned home Sunday."

Charles J. Albers, Byron Bishop and Alfred F. Starke took employment at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. Mr. Starke is a son of Fred Starke, who spent over a third of a century at the forge in those shops, but is now on the Pennsylvania retired list, having passed the seventy year mark.

Mrs. Hunt, wife of Robert E. Hunt, station agent at Columbia City, was taken to the hospital at Lima, Ohio, yesterday afternoon to have a surgical operation for the removal of gall stones. She was accompanied there by her husband and her uncle, Dr. W. E. Hover, who is connected with the Lima hospital.

Philip Oberkeiser, section foreman at Columbia City, for the Pennsylvania, spends his spare time in the summer in the cultivation of a garden at his home and some of the products would attract attention at a country fair. He raised a raddish which measured two feet in length and four and a half inches in diameter, which is now on exhibit in the show window of Yontz & Hallauer, grocers, at Columbia City.

Mayor Fred A. Busse, of Chicago, is in New York, studying the electrification of steam roads in that city. Chicago is clamoring for an abatement of the smoke nuisance and electrification seems to be the best means of accomplishing it, Mayor Busse says. If the project is taken up in Chicago it will mean the expenditure of vast sums by all of the railways entering the city. Mayor Busse will be in New York about ten days.

GROWTH

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

The growth of a financial institution is a measure of the public confidence which it enjoys.

Our Savings Department has grown steadily in popular favor since the first day the bank was opened.

The explanation of this is found in the fact that a Savings Department in a National Bank appeals to a depositor, because around his savings are thrown all the safeguards of the National Banking system.

The frequent examinations by the bank examiners and the liberal reserves required by law to be carried for the security of the depositor, these make people feel absolutely secure regarding the safety of their money.

The rate of interest allowed in our Savings Department is 4 per cent. If money is left four full calendar months. On the 1st of January and the first of July you may draw the interest. If you don't draw it the interest is added to the principal and itself begins to draw interest. Small depositors are especially welcome.

Perfect Men and Perfect Clothes

Of course we speak of physical perfection and stylish, quality garments.

An Adonis or Apollo in a commonplace suit looks like an automaton, as flat and meaningless. His perfections need careful treating to prevent ridiculous exaggerations.

The tall and slim, the fat and stout, the physically grotesque find the tailor indispensable.

IN THE THEATERS

"THE THREE OF US" TONIGHT.

Time is Short for Famous Sane Western Play.

"The Three of Us," in which Our Own Stock company is seen to handsome advantage this week, comes back to the Majestic this evening, and there are but three more performances of the Rachel Crothers play to be given in Fort Wayne—this evening and Thursday matinee and night.

It is distinctly one of the most pleasing bills in which Our Own Stock company has ever been seen. Built up in the atmsophere of a little home in the Arizona mining country, it is uncontaminated by the roughness and the crime that characterize most of the so-called western plays. "The Three of Us" is sweet, pretty and wholesome throughout, but it is not inane or plotless. The character of "Rhy MacChesney" is one in which Miss Dunbar is doing admirable work and winning many plaudits.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Unusually Good Bill This Week for Vaudeville Patrons.

Manager Stouder, of the Temple theater, is offering his patrons an especially worthy bill this week and one of the most varied and pleasant of the season so far. Heading the bill are Melbourne, McDowell and Virginia Drew Trescott in an intense sketch of the now old "Capital vs. Labor" question entitled "A Man of the People." The sketch gives abundant opportunities for the display of the ability of these two legitimate stars and are being well received by large audiences daily.

AT THE LYRIC.

"Young" Holzhauer and "Kid" Bronson will appear at the Lyric tonight at both shows as an added attraction, in a novelty bag punching act. This will be their only appearance in their home city before going east to fill vaudeville engagements and their friends will be greatly surprised at the excellent work these two young men are doing. A complete set of five new picture subjects will be shown today and Friday is the funniest amateur show of the season.

Cohan and Harris Minstrels.

In addition to George Evans, who still remains the star of the Cohan and Harris minstrel organization, which comes to the Majestic on Friday evening, the company announces as its principal comedians John King, who for several years has been recognized as one of the most unctious black face comedians; Harry Van Fossen, a stranger to minstrel audiences in the east but who has attained a great reputation as a burnt cork comedian on the Pacific coast, Sam Lee and Earl Benham. The latter will be remembered for his exquisite rendering of the very popular song, "Meet Me in Rose Time, Rosie," which was written expressly for him and which he sang with striking effect with the Cohan and Harris Minstrels last season.

"Buster Brown."

The management of the Majestic announces the engagement for Saturday matinee and night the ever popular "Buster Brown." It is hardly necessary to say anything further for the inimitable Buster together with Tige and Mary Jane are so well known that they require no introducing to the theater-going public of this city.

"The Alaskan."

Something entirely new in the musical comedy line will surely prove an innovation to our local amusement seekers. "The Alaskan" is promised as that and even more. The new and novel "Snowballing" number, in which the entire audience is allowed to pelt the Esquimo girls with fluffy missiles which are exact replicas of snowballs, is very exciting. "The Alaskan" comes to the Majestic Oct. 21.

"The Golden Butterfly."

The gorgeous butterfly costumes worn by the chorus which accompanies Grace Van Studdiford in "The Butterfly and the Clover" song, one of the principal lyric hits in "The Golden Butterfly," were designed by C. de Longpie, the famous French painter, and made in Paris. The jewelled gauze wings alone are said to be works of art. The production comes to the Majestic Oct. 22.

Frank J. Healy, a local writer of merited celebrity, will take a position on the local staff of the Indianapolis Journal December 1.

Judge Edward O'Rourke left for Cecil, Ohio, today, where he will deliver the closing address of the campaign for the Ohio democrats.

The National league base ball season came to a close Saturday, though a few postponed games remain to be played this week. The Providence nine wins the pennant.

The Academy of Music has booked W. J. Scanlan, the Irish minstrel, for October 24; Lewis Aldrich, in "My Partner," for October 25, and Margaret Mather for a later date. These attractions are the best on the road and will fill the Academy.

O. A. Simons' "Daisy Scott" won the race with Will McKinnie's "Billy F." at the fair grounds Saturday for $100 a side and a number of side bets. There was another race between "Judge Hoadley" and "Snowflake." The "judge" easily won the first two heats. The running horses of Dr. J. M. Dinnen and George Swayne were matched for a half mile dash and this piece of sport closed the matinee.

Five rousing democratic meetings were held in the county Saturday night. Henry Colerick spoke at the Center school in Pleasant township, where he was accompanied by Henry Berghoff, Andrew F. Glutting and John P. Hance; W. P. Breen addressed a gathering at New Haven; Montgomery Hamilton spoke in Washington township; J. M. Robinson in Aboit township and W. H. Shambaugh at Sterling's corners.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING.

Weight yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Fort Wayne and the remarkable results following its use have made Meyer Bros. Co. such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but Meyer Bros. Co. have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

COUNCIL GIVES THE BOARD A CHANCE AT RIVER

Will Clean Up Bed of the Stream Before High Water Comes.

Under a suspension of the rules the city council at its meeting last night passed an ordinance appropriating $400 for cleaning up the bed of St. Mary's river between Clinton street and the Columbia street bridge so that the work can be done before the high water comes. So much undergrowth has made its appearance that it is necessary to remove some of it to give the water a chance to flow out instead of backing up over the lowlands in Spy Run.

Most of the time of the meeting was devoted to appropriation matters. Ordinances were introduced giving the fire department $1,500 additional for fuel, light, horseshoeing and other incidentals; $1,300 to the park board for putting liquid asphalt on the Swinney park drives and removing the light tower from the Washington school yard to the island in the park lake and for pay rolls; $250 to the police department to buy a motor generator for charging batteries for the alarm system and $1,000 for the maintenance and repair of streets. All of these ordinances were referred to the finance committee. An ordinance was passed giving the mayor power to sell a house that was condemned in the opening of Sturgis street.

Attorney Fred Zollars appeared before the council and asked that action on the claim of $5,000 presented by Zollars & Zollars be held up until the latter part of November or the first of December. He said that then his father, Judge Allen Zollars, will probably be able to appear in person and take the matter up. Nothing was done relative to the covered market proposition. Councilman Bayer complained that the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company has failed to put up iron poles on South Broadway and at his request notice was served that the work must be done at once.

The mayor notified the council that he had signed ordinances fixing the tax levy and the expenditures for next year, extending the city limits, creating a semi-monthly payday for clerks, appropriating $1,000 for the prevention of contagious diseases and $750 for paying C. M. Robinson for his beautification plans.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—Yesterday's holiday with its tale of storms in the spring wheat territory together with buying of northwest millers gave an upward slant to the wheat market today. The domestic trade was reinforced by foreign cables. December opened at $1.04 to $1.04½ and with slight fluctuations steadied at that point.

Fine weather for the crops in the corn belt made the market in corn a trifle heavy. December opened ⅛c higher with quotations of 57⅝@57⅞c.

STOCK AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 13.—Selling orders for stocks accumulated in brokers' offices over the holiday, and their execution today made the opening stock market weak. Union Pacific was forced down 1¼, Southern Pacific, United States Steel preferred and American Car 1 point, and Atchison, St. Paul, Great Northern preferred, Reading, Pennsylvania, Amalgamated Copper and American Sugar large fractions. Opening sales of United States Steel were of seven thousand shares at 86 and 85⅝, compared with 86 on Monday. There were subsequent sales at 85.

Supporting orders were distributed for the railroad stocks, but the effect of these was offset for a time by the steady liquidation of many industrials. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Reading and St. Paul then rallied to Monday's closing prices. United States Steel also made a full recovery after which the whole market became quiet. Federal Mining yielded 3 points, United States Rubber 2½, General Electric, Iowa Central preferred and American Malting 1⅜, Consolidated Gas, pressed Steel Car and National Biscuit 1½, American Smelting, Missouri Pacific, Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred, Allis Chalmers preferred, Westinghouse Electric 1. United Railways and Investment preferred gained 1½ and Toledo, St. Louis & Western 1 point.

A rise of a point in Kansas & Texas and Canadian Pacific preceded a rapid decline. This was checked before the previous low level was reached and there was as rapid recovery. Brooklyn Transit rose 1 point and International Paper preferred 1¼. Union Pacific preferred declined 1 point, Distillers Securities and Delaware & Hudson 1¼, American Smelting 1½ and Pacific Telephone 2. Trading became dull on the recovery. Bonds were irregular.

Further weakness in Amalgamated Copper, which went down 1⅝ points, was ignored, the market making good progress upward under the leadership of the principal railroad stocks. The strength shown by the railroads had a good effect on the specialties, United States Steel mounting to 87 and American Smelting and Amalgamated Copper making up a good deal of their losses. Reading, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific advanced a point, New York Central 1¼ and Great Northern Ore Certificates 1½.

SOME CHAT IN CITY POLITICS

In addresses to democratic meetings in the First and Third wards Tuesday evening, Charles McCulloch urged the election of August M. Schmidt as mayor upon the grounds of his qualifications for the place and his knowledge of city affairs. Mr. McCulloch declared that he liked Mr. Grice as a personal friend, but questioned his equipment for the mayoralty on account of lack of familiarity with city governmental matters.

Republicans held a meeting on Dwenger avenue in the Eighth ward last evening. Mr. Grice, who was scheduled to speak, did not arrive and Attorney Lee J. Hartzell delivered the address.

First ward democrats will hold a meeting this evening at Clay and Jefferson streets, where addresses will be delivered by Mr. Schmidt, A. E. Melching and C. M. Niezer.

The board of election commissioners has completed its work of securing voting places for the city election.

The voting machine for the Fourth ward has been placed at Rhoads' drug store, Broadway and Washington street, where voters may learn its operation.

Two democratic meetings are on the program for Thursday evening, when Mayor Hosey will deliver his first ward meeting address of the present campaign. The mayor, with F. H. Kleekamp and Gustave Rogge, will speak at the Tenth ward headquarters, 811 Buchanan street, and Messrs. Schmidt, Melching, Haley and Herman Strodel will be heard in a Ninth ward meeting at 1731 Short street.

The Eighth ward drum corps will turn out for the democratic meeting in the new section of the city, to be held Friday evening in the Adams township school. It will be the first big political meeting held here since the district was annexed to the city.

The socialist party has filed with the election commissioners the certificates of the nomination of its city ticket.

The republicans will have a trio of meetings this evening. H. G. Hogan will speak in the Fifth ward, at Gage's broom shop, 1222 West Main street; Judge B. W. Skelton will be heard in the Ninth ward at 617 West Third street, and an organization meeting will be held at 1212 Calhoun street, in the Third ward.

The republicans will hold a meeting at Bowser's hall in the Tenth ward Friday evening.

Shop meetings will be inaugurated tomorrow by the republican organization, with candidates speaking at noon at the Indiana Road Machine works and the plant of the Horton Manufacturing company.

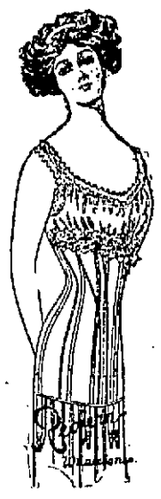
Redfern Whalebone Corsets



receive their laurels as the prima donna receives hers.

These corsets are the inspiration of corset designers all over the world, as they are the foremost in style—so advanced are their lines that they denote a full season ahead the figure fashion to come.

The figure is not necessarily reduced in a Redfern. It is made to look slim through the proper distribution of the flesh in the corset, which gives long, straight lines by not curving the waist.

In the very latest Redfern models the cloth of the skirt extends beyond the boning section, making the corset perfectly comfortable, sitting, standing or walking.

GETS IMPORTANT PATENT.

Dallas F. Green Wins Long Fight for Rimless Eyeglass Invention.

One of the most important patents ever granted a Fort Wayne inventor has just been issued to Dallas F. Green, jeweler and optician, after a fight of eighteen months. It is a patent on a rimless eyeglass device of Mr. Green's invention, in which the lens have a terminal pointed lug on their inner end to form a self-centering anchorage for the mounting, which is fixed on the lug outside the field of the lens and of vision by means of cement.

This is declared to be the first successful elimination of the necessity of drilling holes through the lens and using stud-screws. The patent office examiners cited about a dozen old patents, some of them over forty years old, showing all the various features of Mr. Green's invention, but they did not show his combination of those features into a successful remedy for the defects incident to lens screws. Yet the application was rejected, and it was only granted on appeal after Attorney W. P. Denny had conducted a persistent fight before the board of examiners-in-chief at Washington.

Mr. Green is preparing to manufacture this invention on a large scale, and it will be a very important part of his business in the future.

O. MARAHRENS WINS THE PIANO

Given Away By the Geo. Jacobs Music House.

O. Marahrens, of 1918 Smith street, is the winning contestant in the George Jacobs music house magic thirty-three puzzle-solving competition and will be awarded a three hundred dollar piano out of the stock of this concern. Mr. W. D. Holterman is the winner of the second prize and Mrs. Gertrude H. Grosvenor, of 710 Packard avenue, carried off third price. Each of them will be awarded a valuable watch.

The contest was decided Tuesday afternoon after the closing of the contest because of the time limit imposed. Mr. Marahrens' work was elaborate, but exceedingly well done and really a work of considerable merit from an artistic standpoint. Great difficulty was experienced, however, in selecting the winner because of the excellence of all the matter submitted. The list of other contestants who were successful will be announced by the Jacobs firm through the mails.

Well Known Hotel Keeper Uses and Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I have administered it to a great many traveling men who were suffering from troubles for which it is recommended, and have never failed to relieve them," says J. C. Jenkins, of Glasgow, Ky. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas medicines made with mercury merely dry up the secretions and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real remedy, not a delusion. All druggists, 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.
